Good Neighbor Storage Introduces On-Site U-Haul Rentals for Neosho Movers

August 28, 2026

NEOSHO, MO - August 28, 2026 -
Good Neighbor Storage, a newly built, Christian-owned self-storage facility in Neosho, Missouri, has announced the addition of on-site U-Haul truck and trailer rentals as part of its membership in the U-Haul Self-Storage Affiliate Network. The new offering allows customers to rent moving trucks of any size for local or long-distance moves without traveling to a separate rental location.

The Good Neighbor Storage U-Haul Rentals service includes a range of equipment to accommodate different moving needs. Alongside moving trucks, the facility offers cargo and enclosed trailers, utility trailers, car trailers, and motorcycle trailers. Customers planning larger relocations can combine a truck and trailer rental to handle the entire job in a single trip, reducing the number of trips required across town or across the country.

In addition to rental equipment, the facility stocks moving boxes and packing supplies on-site. This gives customers a single-stop option to reserve a truck, gather packing materials, and secure a storage unit or vehicle parking space during the same visit. Reservations carry no cost to book and are guaranteed once confirmed.

Cory Platt of Good Neighbor Storage said the addition reflects the company's effort to simplify the moving process for area residents and businesses. "Moving involves a lot of moving parts, and coordinating trucks, trailers, and supplies from different places adds time and stress," Platt said. "Bringing U-Haul equipment on-site means people can handle those pieces in one place, then store what they need without a second stop."

Platt added that the equipment selection was chosen to match the practical needs of the community. "Some customers are moving a household across the state, while others just need a utility trailer for an afternoon or a motorcycle trailer for the weekend," he said. "Having a full range available lets people match the equipment to the job rather than settling for whatever is on hand."

The expanded rental service complements the facility's existing storage options, which range from compact indoor units to large outdoor parking spaces suitable for recreational vehicles, boats, and commercial equipment. Good Neighbor Storage also provides business storage solutions for paperwork, inventory, overstock, construction materials, seasonal machines, and tools, helping local companies keep their operations running without managing excess materials on-site.

Good Neighbor Storage is a Christian-owned self-storage facility serving Neosho, Missouri, and the surrounding area. The company offers self-storage units in a variety of sizes, business storage solutions, vehicle storage for cars, boats, and recreational vehicles, and a full-service moving center that includes packing supplies, boxes, moving trucks, and cargo trailers. Through partnerships with professional movers and its membership in the U-Haul Self-Storage Affiliate Network, the company aims to provide comprehensive support throughout the relocation process. Guided by faith-based values, Good Neighbor Storage maintains clean, well-kept facilities and works to create a welcoming environment for individuals, families, and businesses across the community.
