

J&D Tree Service Expands Stump Grinding Offerings for Southwest Missouri Property Owners

September 16, 2026

MONETT, MO - September 16, 2026 -

J&D Tree Service, a locally owned tree care company serving Southwest Missouri, has formally expanded its stump grinding service to address a common concern for homeowners left with unsightly and hazardous stumps following tree removal. The expanded offering targets property owners across Barry, Lawrence, Stone, and surrounding counties who seek to reclaim usable yard space.

Stump grinding uses specialized equipment to grind remaining stumps below ground level, eliminating tripping hazards and clearing the way for new landscaping. The service addresses what tree removal alone leaves behind, since removal covers cutting a tree down and hauling away debris, while grinding addresses the portion that remains underground. Many homeowners choose to add grinding as a follow-up step after a tree has been taken down.

Because stump grinding is typically quoted as a separate service from tree removal, J&D Tree Service provides free, no-pressure estimates so property owners can understand the scope of each job before committing. The company carries full liability insurance on every project to protect the property it works on.

John Marmon, owner of J&D Tree Service, said the expanded focus reflects a need he has observed repeatedly across the region. "A lot of homeowners take a tree down and then realize the stump remains a problem for years," Marmon said. "Grinding that stump below ground level removes the tripping hazard and gives people back a yard they can actually use for landscaping, gardening, or simply mowing without obstruction."

The expansion builds on the company's established presence in communities including Monett, Cassville, Aurora, and Mount Vernon. Founded by Marmon in 2005, J&D Tree Service brings more than two decades of industry experience to the region and has completed over 500 projects while maintaining a claims-free safety record.

Marmon noted that J&D Tree Service Stump Grinding fits within the company's broader approach to tree care, which also includes tree removal, pruning, and emergency response. "Grinding is often the final step in a larger project," he said. "After a hazardous or dead tree comes down, clearing the stump completes the work and leaves the property ready for whatever comes next."

In addition to stump grinding, the company provides safe and efficient removal of hazardous, dead, or unwanted trees, handling trees of any size with minimal impact on the surrounding property. Professional pruning and trimming services aim to improve tree structure, appearance, and longevity. The company also maintains around-the-clock emergency response for downed trees, branches on structures, and hazardous situations that arise during Southwest Missouri's active storm seasons.

J&D Tree Service is a licensed and insured company based in Monett, Missouri. Serving homeowners and property managers throughout Barry, Lawrence, Stone, and surrounding counties, the company has built a reputation among Southwest Missouri residents for skill, honesty, and professionalism. Free estimates are available for all services, and the company continues to prioritize quick response for both scheduled maintenance and urgent needs.
