

Raleigh Cleaning Company Announces National Spotlight by ProTeam by Emerson

August 14, 2026

Raleigh, North Carolina - August 14, 2026 -

Raleigh Cleaning Company has received national recognition after being spotlighted by ProTeam by Emerson. The feature highlights the company's approach to residential cleaning services and its emphasis on consistency, client care, and support for team members.

ProTeam by Emerson, known for professional cleaning equipment and related industry resources, included Raleigh Cleaning Company in a recent spotlight. The recognition places the local firm in a broader national context within the cleaning sector. Company representatives noted that the attention reflects ongoing efforts to maintain reliable standards in daily operations.

Nina Hazelwood, Owner of Raleigh Cleaning Company, commented on the development. "It was really exciting to see our company featured by ProTeam by Emerson. Our team puts a lot of heart into the work we do every day, so national recognition like this means a lot."

Derek Hazelwood of Raleigh Cleaning Company added further perspective. "We've always tried to focus on doing things the right way: taking care of clients, supporting our employees, and staying consistent. Being recognized for that is incredibly rewarding.?

Raleigh Cleaning Company has operated since 2014, providing professional residential cleaning services across portions of Downtown Raleigh, East Raleigh, North Raleigh, Chapel Hill, Durham, Morrisville, Wake Forest, Rolesville, Franklinton, Youngsville, Zebulon, Knightdale, Wendell, and additional nearby communities. Services include recurring cleanings on weekly, bi-weekly, or every-four-week schedules, custom cleaning plans tailored to specific household needs, and deep cleanings for move-in and move-out situations. These offerings address detailed tasks such as baseboards and ceiling fans to prepare spaces for new occupancy or ongoing maintenance.

The company incorporates green cleaning options intended to support healthier indoor environments while meeting individual client requirements. Operations center on dependable service that allows households to maintain cleaner living spaces without the ongoing burden of the work itself. This focus aligns with the values expressed in the ProTeam by Emerson recognition, which centered on consistent practices and care for both clients and employees.

Prior local and regional acknowledgments provide additional context for the national feature. Raleigh Cleaning Company was named WRAL's 2025 Best Residential Cleaning Company. It has also been voted "Best of the Best" by the Wake Forest Community and recognized as a Wake Weekly Best selection over multiple years. An earlier HGTV feature further documented the company's work. These prior distinctions establish a record of community and media attention that precedes the ProTeam by Emerson spotlight.

The national attention arrives as residential cleaning continues to play a role in supporting household routines and indoor air quality considerations. Raleigh Cleaning Company maintains its service model of structured recurring visits, flexible custom arrangements, and thorough deep cleaning protocols. Team members carry out the work under the direction of ownership that prioritizes reliability and employee support, elements referenced in the recent industry feature.

In the period following the ProTeam by Emerson spotlight, the company continues its established operations serving the Raleigh and Wake Forest areas. The recognition underscores the results of sustained attention to client needs and internal consistency rather than any single campaign or temporary initiative. Ownership and staff view the national coverage as confirmation of long-term operational priorities.

Raleigh Cleaning Company remains a locally based provider of residential cleaning services founded in 2014. Under the ownership of Nina Hazelwood, the firm delivers recurring, custom, and deep cleaning options with green cleaning alternatives available. It serves multiple communities surrounding Raleigh and Wake Forest while maintaining a record of prior local awards and media features. The ProTeam by Emerson spotlight adds a national dimension to that existing body of recognition.
