On Tuesday, May 17th, 1st Family Dental, a dental practice with 11 Chicagoland locations, gave back to the local community with a Free Dental Clinic Day at it's Addison Dental Clinic, located at 120 E. Lake St. Addison, IL 60101.

The Addison dentist office, which just opened in March 2016, provided free dental services to more than 40 local patients throughout the day. Dental services were provided free of charge, including cleanings, fillings, x-rays, and extractions.

According to Dr. Ghassan Abboud, the president and founder of 1st Family Dental, "Free dental services were provided to patients ages 3 and above on a first come, first served basis. In total, 1st Family Dental of Addison donated over 40 hours and more than $10,000 in free dental services."

Addison's mayor, Rich Veenstra, attended the free dental clinic day and welcomed 1st Family Dental of Addison to the Addison, Illinois community. "The facility you've got here is just gorgeous" and he continued, "we're very thrilled to be welcoming you into Addison. You're going to become one of Addison's Advantages."

This isn't 1st Family Dental's first free dental clinic day. In fact, over the past three years 1st Family Dental has held free dental clinic days at many of it's locations, serving and providing free dental care to over 200 local patients. Past free dental clinic days have been hosted at 1st Family Dental's Fox Valley location in Aurora, as well as two of it's Chicago dental offices; Albany Park and Little Village.

Founded in 1996, 1st Family Dental operates by a simple business model; everyone deserves excellent, affordable dental care, whether or not they have dental insurance. This model has helped the dental group grow to 11 locations in the city of Chicago and the surrounding suburbs.
