

Alejo Gutters Highlights Importance of Seasonal Gutter Inspections for Raleigh Homeowners

August 24, 2026

RALEIGH, NC - August 24, 2026 -
Alejo Gutters, a locally owned and operated exterior contractor serving Raleigh, North Carolina, is drawing attention to the role of routine seasonal gutter maintenance in protecting homes from water damage as heavier rain periods arrive across the region.

With more than 20 years of hands-on experience, the company reports that many water intrusion problems traced during service calls begin with clogged, sagging, or improperly draining gutter systems. In response, Alejo Gutters is encouraging area residents to schedule inspections before minor issues develop into costly structural repairs.

The company provides a comprehensive gutter service that covers gutter guard installation, gutter repairs, gutter cleaning, and downspout installation and redirection. Technicians document each project with photographs and focus on diagnosing the full system rather than addressing only surface symptoms. This approach, the company notes, helps homeowners understand the actual cause of leaks and standing water.

Among the systems installed by the company are larger six-inch seamless gutters, which are designed to handle greater water volume and reduce the number of joints where debris and leaks commonly occur. The company also installs established gutter guard systems, including Shur Flo, Master Shield, and LeafBlaster Pro, and repairs failing sections and clogged lines during standard maintenance visits.

"Most of the water damage found during inspections could have been prevented with earlier attention," said a spokesperson for Alejo Gutters. "A thorough inspection identifies small problems, such as separated seams or blocked downspouts, before they reach the fascia, framing, or foundation. That early diagnosis is where homeowners save the most."

The company has built a reputation among Raleigh homeowners for clear communication and detailed documentation, reflected in its five-star customer reviews. A sample of the feedback the company has received can be viewed through its Google listing.

"Homeowners want to know exactly what is happening on their property and why," the spokesperson added. "Providing photos of every job and explaining the findings has been central to how the company operates, and that transparency is what customers respond to most."

Beyond gutters, Alejo Gutters offers roofing services that include inspections, repairs, replacement, maintenance, and insurance claim support, with roofing work backed by a five-year workmanship warranty. The company also handles exterior repairs such as siding, fascia, trim, and wood framing, as well as chimney chase and cap replacement and related leak repairs.
