August 28, 2026 -

Truly Investor Capital has announced a new Regional Sales Manager career opportunity for experienced professionals in business-purpose and real estate investment lending. The position is currently featured on Glassdoor and centers on building borrower, broker, and referral relationships while originating investor loans nationwide.

The role is designed for experienced producers with backgrounds in private lending, hard money, RTL, DSCR, bridge, fix-and-flip, rehabilitation, ground-up construction, and rental portfolio financing. Rather than operating within a fixed territory, Regional Sales Managers at Truly Investor Capital can develop a nationwide book of business, an approach intended to give producers broader reach across active investment markets.

The Glass Door Truly Investor Capital listing outlines a position supported by an integrated technology and operations platform. That platform is designed to help producers structure scenarios, generate loan terms quickly, and move qualified transactions efficiently from initial submission through closing. According to the company, its technology can generate professional letters of intent in approximately 30 seconds, while complete, executable loan files can close in approximately seven to ten days.

The opportunity includes a base salary with commission, medical, dental, vision, and life benefits, and a 401(k) with company match. It also provides marketing support, CRM-driven opportunities, market data, leads, and institutional backing for professionals originating investor loans.

"The Regional Sales Manager position reflects the direction of the business and the demand for experienced producers who understand investor lending," said a representative for Truly Capital. "The goal is to give proven professionals the tools, technology, and support needed to build a nationwide practice without the limits of a single territory."

The company noted that speed and structure are central to the role. "Producers spend less time waiting and more time closing when the technology handles scenario structuring and term generation," the representative added. "Fast letters of intent and short closing timelines allow sales professionals to focus on relationships and volume."

The position aligns with the range of loan products the company offers. Rehab Loans finance fix-and-flip projects with up to 90 percent of the purchase price and 100 percent of rehab costs. Construction Loans support ground-up spec and custom builds with flexible draw schedules and terms ranging from 12 to 24 months. DSCR Loans are based on rental income rather than personal income and offer up to 80 percent loan-to-value with 30-year fixed options. Bridge Loans provide short-term financing with 12-month terms and interest-only payments.

Professionals interested in expanding their careers in private and business-purpose lending can learn more through the current Glassdoor listing.
