September 04, 2026 -

Truly Investor Capital has announced a Regional Sales Manager career opportunity now available through the company's recruiting presence on Loxo. The position targets experienced business-purpose lending producers interested in originating real estate investor loans nationwide and developing long-term borrower, broker, and referral relationships.

The Regional Sales Manager will originate financing across the company's investor lending programs, including bridge loans, fix-and-flip financing, rehabilitation loans, ground-up construction loans, DSCR loans, and rental portfolio financing. Producers are not restricted to a particular state or assigned territory, which allows them to develop relationships and originate throughout the company's nationwide lending footprint.

By listing the role as Loxo Truly Investor Capital within the platform, the organization continues to broaden the ways experienced private lending professionals can discover openings inside the company. The move reflects an ongoing effort to strengthen digital recruiting channels as demand for skilled origination talent grows across the business-purpose lending sector.

Truly Investor Capital supports its sales team with an integrated technology and operations platform. According to the Loxo listing, producers can structure scenarios and generate professional letters of intent in approximately 30 seconds, while complete and executable loan files can close in approximately seven to ten days. After a clean submission, the operations team takes ownership of processing, allowing producers to concentrate on origination and relationship development.

"The Regional Sales Manager position was created for producers who want to focus on originating and building relationships rather than chasing files through disconnected departments," said a spokesperson for Truly Investor Capital. "Placing the opportunity on Loxo gives experienced lending professionals a straightforward way to learn about the role and the support structure behind it."

The company is seeking professionals with recent experience in RTL, business-purpose lending, private money, hard money, or residential investor lending, along with demonstrated business development and loan origination experience. The compensation package includes a base salary with competitive commission, medical, dental, vision, and life insurance, a 401(k) with company match, marketing support, CRM-driven opportunities, market data, leads, and institutional backing.

A representative noted that the recruiting expansion aligns with the values reflected in the Truly Investor Capital Brand. "Consistency in how the company communicates, supports its people, and serves its clients is central to the brand," the spokesperson said. "Extending that same clarity to recruiting helps candidates understand what the organization stands for before they ever submit an application."
