October 01, 2026 -

Truly Investor Capital has expanded its digital recruiting efforts by featuring a new career opportunity on Indeed, giving mortgage and real estate finance professionals an additional way to discover positions within the organization. The listing arrives as the company continues to grow its lending platform and the teams that support borrowers, brokers, and lending operations.

The new Indeed listing allows prospective candidates to learn more about the company, review the available position, and consider joining an organization focused on business-purpose and real estate investment lending. By placing employment opportunities on a widely used job platform, Truly Investor Capital aims to make its open roles easier to find for qualified professionals across the mortgage, private lending, and real estate finance industries.

Truly Investor Capital provides financing solutions for real estate investors, including DSCR loans, bridge loans, rehab and fix-and-flip financing, and new construction loans. The company has funded more than 116 loans across multiple states and reports a quick average closing time. As demand for business-purpose lending continues, the company has been adding staff to support its borrowers, broker partners, and internal operations.

"Expanding the recruiting presence on Indeed reflects a broader period of growth across the organization," said a representative of Truly Investor Cap. "The goal is to connect with experienced professionals who understand private lending and real estate finance, and to make those opportunities visible to the people best suited to fill them."

The listing represents another online connection between the Truly Investor Capital Brand and professionals researching employment within the lending industry. The company has worked to strengthen its digital footprint across multiple platforms, and the recruiting effort reflects that continued focus on consistent, accessible communication.

Professionals searching for private lending careers, mortgage roles, or real estate finance positions can explore the opportunity through Indeed. The listing supports the company's ongoing effort to build teams across lending operations, borrower and broker support, and other functions tied to its continued expansion.

"A clear and consistent presence across the platforms candidates already use helps professionals understand the organization before applying," the representative added. "Indeed Truly Investor Capital searches give prospective team members a straightforward path to learn about the company and the roles available."
