

Can't Be Beat Fence Co LLC Expands Security Fence Installation Services Across Mississippi Gulf Coast

September 11, 2026

Crane Creek, Mississippi - September 11, 2026 -

Can't Be Beat Fence & Construction, LLC has expanded its security fence installation services to serve residential, commercial, and government clients throughout the Mississippi Gulf Coast, including Ocean Springs, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pass Christian, and Pascagoula. The expansion responds to growing demand for durable perimeter protection among homeowners, businesses, and public facilities across the region.

With 43 years of continuous operation and more than 20,000 fences installed, the company has become one of the Southeast's larger fencing contractors. The expanded focus on secured perimeters draws on decades of experience installing fencing at ports, harbors, airports, shipyards, military facilities, casinos, and electrical substations across the Southeastern United States.

Can't Be Beat Fence offers a range of fencing materials suited to security applications, including aluminum, chain link, vinyl, and wood. Each option can be tailored to a property's specific needs, whether the goal is safeguarding a private residence, securing a commercial site, or meeting the standards required for government installations. The company maintains background-cleared employees for government and secure facilities projects.

The company owner, Meredith Anderson, said the expansion reflects the changing needs of Gulf Coast property owners. "Property owners across Ocean Springs, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pass Christian, and Pascagoula are placing greater importance on perimeter security," Anderson said. "A properly designed and installed fence remains one of the most practical measures a homeowner or business can take to protect people and property."

The company employs full-time estimators and installers, with the average installer carrying more than ten years of field experience. Anderson noted that experience plays a central role in secure fencing outcomes. "Security fencing has to be installed correctly to serve its purpose," Anderson said. "The materials matter, but so does the workmanship. Our installers understand the terrain and conditions along the coast, and that knowledge shows in the finished work."

Can't Be Beat Fence & Construction provides expert guidance through selection, estimation, scheduling, and site preparation for each project. The company offers free estimates and requires no upfront payment. Residents and businesses interested in a secure perimeter solution may contact our team of experts today at (228) 255-9040.

The company is a member of the American Fence Association and the Associated Builders and Contractors and maintains a profile with the Better Business Bureau. It also operates an award-winning safety program that guides its work on both private and secure government sites.
