Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos Expands Insurance Portfolio to Address Local Coverage Needs

September 01, 2026

SAN ANTONIO, TX - September 01, 2026 -

Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos, an insurance agency based in San Antonio, Texas, has broadened the range of personal and commercial coverage available to area residents and business owners. The expanded portfolio reflects ongoing adjustments the agency has made to align its product lineup with changing needs across the region.

Operating as a home insurance agency in San Antonio under the Farmers Insurance affiliation, the agency now provides homeowners insurance, property insurance, life insurance, business insurance, specialty insurance, financial services, and car insurance in San Antonio. The additions to the lineup include expanded specialty coverage for hobbies such as ATV riding and sailing, alongside the property and casualty products that form the core of the agency's work.

Homeowners policies offered through the agency extend to rental property protection and may cover damage and theft, subject to applicable policy terms, exclusions, and limits. Auto policies provide liability, collision, and comprehensive options for drivers, each governed by the specific terms of the selected coverage. Life insurance products include term and whole life options, and business coverage addresses company assets and vehicles.

Ulysses Campos, agency owner, said the expanded lineup responds to inquiries the agency has received from clients seeking coverage for a wider set of circumstances. "The portfolio has grown because families and businesses in San Antonio have raised questions the standard products did not always answer," Campos said. "Every policy begins with understanding what a client actually needs, and the range of options now available reflects those conversations."

Campos added that the agency treats coverage decisions as specific to each situation rather than uniform. "A first home, a new driver added to a car insurance policy, and a small business each call for different terms," Campos said. "The aim is to match the coverage to the circumstance and to be clear about what a policy does and does not include."

The financial services offered through the agency include guidance related to retirement planning and asset protection. These services are provided in accordance with the products and provider relationships available through the Farmers Insurance affiliation, and their scope depends on the individual products a client selects. The agency serves individuals, families, and businesses seeking coverage tailored to specific circumstances.

The agency also maintains a blog covering topics such as life insurance benefits, retirement planning, and off-road vehicle coverage, providing educational material for those researching insurance options. The blog is part of a broader set of resources the agency has developed for clients evaluating coverage.

Farmers Insurance - Ulysses Campos operates within the San Antonio market and continues to adjust its offerings as local conditions and client needs evolve.
