August 27, 2026 -

Mystic Ridge Outdoor Living, an outdoor structure construction company, provides extensive deck, patio, and specialized outdoor living space services for residential and commercial properties throughout the Wasatch Front area. With a focus on structural integrity and design, the company brings over forty years of combined industry knowledge to the planning and execution of custom exterior builds. Recognizing the interest in functional exterior spaces, the business oversees projects from the initial conceptual stages through to final construction.

The construction of outdoor living areas requires adherence to local building codes, an understanding of regional weather patterns, and careful consideration of existing property features. Mystic Ridge Outdoor Living initiates every project with a thorough consultation to assess these parameters and determine the specific requirements of the location. The company manages the entirety of the project lifecycle, which includes navigating zoning laws, securing necessary building permits, and performing the final installation. This structured approach is designed to ensure that all additions are compliant and integrated with the existing architecture.

Central to the company's offerings is its work as a deck builder in Eden, UT. The business constructs a variety of deck types, catering to different functional needs and material preferences. Clients can select from traditional wood materials, which offer a classic aesthetic, or modern composite decking, known for its durability and resistance to weathering. The construction team is equipped to handle new deck construction from the ground up, as well as the installation of floating decks that can be situated independently of the main building structure. Additionally, the company provides comprehensive deck replacement and repair services, addressing issues such as structural wear and weather damage.

Beyond standard decking, Mystic Ridge Outdoor Living expands its focus to encompass diverse hardscaping and overhead structures. The company provides new patio construction, creating ground-level foundations that serve as versatile gathering spaces. To complement these patios, the team designs and builds pergolas and other shade solutions. These overhead structures are engineered to provide relief from direct sunlight while maintaining an open-air environment. The integration of patios and pergolas allows property owners to utilize their outdoor spaces effectively throughout the varying seasons experienced along the Wasatch Front.

The scope of services also includes the construction of specialized outdoor structures. The company builds custom gazebos, which function as standalone architectural focal points that offer sheltered seating areas. For exterior culinary spaces, the team constructs outdoor kitchens equipped to house grills, sinks, and preparation surfaces. Furthermore, the business designs and installs outdoor staircases and safety railings, ensuring that multi-level exterior spaces are accessible and secure. Rooftop decks represent another specialized service, requiring advanced engineering to support weight loads and ensure proper water drainage. Various shade covers are also available to protect these installations.

Serving as a dedicated deck builder in Eden, UT, the company emphasizes reliable craftsmanship and transparent project management. The team is trained to handle the logistical challenges of construction in diverse residential and commercial environments. By maintaining communication regarding timelines, material availability, and structural requirements, the business ensures that the final product aligns with the blueprints. The forty-plus years of combined experience within the team contribute to a systematic and efficient construction process, minimizing disruptions to the property during the building phase.

To provide assurance regarding the quality of builds, Mystic Ridge Outdoor Living includes a five-year craftsmanship warranty on its projects. This warranty serves as a verifiable commitment to the durability and structural soundness of the installations. Additionally, the company offers free estimates promptly, allowing property owners to understand the financial scope of their desired projects before making a commitment. A five percent military discount is also available to eligible clients.

Mystic Ridge Outdoor Living remains focused on creating custom outdoor spaces that enhance both the functionality and the value of properties. By offering an array of services ranging from basic repairs to the installation of complex outdoor kitchens and rooftop structures, the company accommodates a broad spectrum of architectural requirements. Individuals or businesses seeking information regarding construction capabilities, warranty details, or project evaluations can contact the company directly. Further details about services, a gallery of completed projects, and contact forms are accessible through the company website.
