

Antioch Storage Solutions Launches User-Friendly Website for Streamlined Unit Selection

August 28, 2026

ANTIOCH, IL - August 28, 2026 -

Antioch Storage Solutions, a locally owned and operated self-storage facility in Antioch, IL, has launched a new user-friendly website designed to help customers identify and reserve the right storage unit size within minutes. The updated platform allows renters to browse available options, complete rental agreements online, and manage account payments through a single digital portal.

The website update reflects a broader shift toward online self-service among storage providers, as customers increasingly seek to compare unit sizes and secure rentals without visiting a location in person. The new platform guides visitors through the selection process by matching storage needs with available drive-up units, all situated within a well-lit and secured perimeter fence.

The facility offers affordable solutions for both personal and business needs, with options for long-term and short-term storage. Available services include self-storage units in a range of sizes, RV storage, boat and trailer storage, and large contractor-friendly units with tall overhead doors. The contractor units are individually heated and include access to a common flex space onsite that features a conference table, bathroom, coffee station, and wifi.

"The new website was built to remove the guesswork from finding a storage unit," said Jonah Hetland, owner of Antioch Storage Solutions. "Customers can review sizes, understand what fits their situation, and complete the entire rental process from home in a matter of minutes."

Security remains central to the facility's operation. The property includes recorded security cameras, daily facility inspections, a well-lit exterior, and a secured fenced perimeter with drive-up access. These measures are intended to protect stored belongings for renters storing seasonal items, furniture, business equipment, and recreational vehicles.

"Storage decisions often happen during stressful moments, such as a move or a seasonal transition," Hetland said. "Combining a straightforward online experience with a secured, well-maintained facility gives customers a clearer path to organizing their belongings."

Beyond storage rentals, the company provides guidance to help customers make efficient use of their space. Recommendations include using shelving units, applying furniture sliders, stacking items according to weight, disassembling large pieces, and labeling boxes for easy retrieval.

The launch adds to a suite of digital tools already available to renters, including online reservation, digital rental agreements, and account management. Together, these features allow customers to handle the majority of storage tasks remotely while retaining access to onsite staff for questions and assistance.

Antioch Storage Solutions is a locally owned and operated storage provider serving the Antioch, Illinois area. The facility offers self-storage units, RV storage, boat and trailer storage, outdoor storage, and contractor-friendly units, supported by 24-hour access, recorded security cameras, daily inspections, and a secured fenced perimeter. The company focuses on affordable, secure storage combined with online booking and payment options for personal and business customers.

###

For more information about Antioch Storage Solutions, contact the company here: Antioch Storage Solutions
Jonah Hetland 847-395-7770
info@antiochstoragesolutions.com
676 Anita Ave, Antioch, IL 60002

Antioch Storage Solutions

Antioch Storage Solutions is your local self-storage facility for all your personal or business needs. We have affordable storage unit rentals in Antioch, IL.

Website: <https://www.antiochstoragesolutions.com/>

Email: info@antiochstoragesolutions.com

Phone: 847-395-7770

