

Wild Range Associates Expands Bookkeeping Services for Southwest Missouri Small Businesses Ahead of Tax Season

October 16, 2026

WEBB CITY, MO - October 16, 2026 -

Wild Range Associates, a bookkeeping and small-business accounting firm serving Southwest Missouri since 2018, is formally expanding its bookkeeping services to help local businesses maintain accurate, tax-ready financial records throughout the year. The expansion arrives as small businesses across the region begin preparing for the approaching tax season, a period when gaps in financial documentation often lead to filing delays, missed deductions, and compliance concerns.

The expanded offering from Wild Range Associates centers on systematic recordkeeping practices designed to track, reconcile, and organize every transaction. Services include comprehensive chart-of-accounts setup, double-entry system accuracy, monthly reconciliation, and organized tracking of income, expenses, invoices, and accounts payable and receivable. Together these practices are intended to turn disorganized financial information into clear, actionable monthly reports.

The firm's process follows three stages. It begins with a free consultation to learn about the business and outline a bookkeeping plan tailored to its needs. From there, the firm provides ongoing organization and management of the books, delivering clear and reliable monthly reports. The final stage focuses on continuous support that keeps clients tax-ready, with upfront pricing and no unexpected costs.

Weston Rea of Wild Range Associates, noted that many small business owners underestimate the complexity of maintaining proper financial records until tax season arrives. "Business owners often focus on running their operations and set their books aside until a deadline forces the issue," Rea said. "Implementing professional bookkeeping practices year-round allows owners to avoid last-minute scrambling and make more informed financial decisions."

Rea added that organized records provide value well beyond the filing window. "Accurate monthly reports give owners a clearer picture of cash flow, expenses, and profitability," he said. "The goal is to give clients confidence in their numbers at any point in the year, not only when taxes are due."

Wild Range Associates Bookkeeping serves a broad range of clients, including entrepreneurs, contractors, retailers, farms, and non-profit organizations. The firm positions itself as a lower-cost alternative to typical bookkeeping providers in the region, with pricing structured to remain accessible for smaller operations that may not have dedicated accounting staff.

In addition to ongoing bookkeeping, the firm offers tax planning services designed to help businesses prepare for tax obligations well in advance, along with tax preparation to streamline filing and tax cleanup for businesses working to bring disorganized or incomplete records into order. These services are intended to support businesses that are behind on their records as well as those seeking to maintain consistency throughout the year.

Wild Range Associates is a professional bookkeeping and accounting firm based in Southwest Missouri, serving families and businesses in Webb City, Joplin, Carthage, and communities across Jasper County and Newton County. Established in the community in 2018, the firm offers bookkeeping, tax planning, tax preparation, and tax cleanup services, with a focus on providing accurate and reliable financial support that allows small businesses to concentrate on growth rather than paperwork.
