

Prestige Heating & Cooling Selected as Approved Ductless Heat Pump Contractor by Ductless Directory

September 11, 2026

METHUEN, MA - September 11, 2026 -

Ductless Directory has selected and approved Prestige Heating & Cooling of Methuen, Massachusetts for inclusion in its directory following completion of the organization's contractor review and selection process. The selection recognizes the company for its ductless installation knowledge, credentials, and its practice of evaluating each home individually rather than applying a single approach to every project.

Ductless Directory maintains a curated list of ductless HVAC professionals and evaluates candidates based on experience, technical training, manufacturer certifications, and installation methodology. As part of that review, the directory examined the practices used by Prestige Heating & Cooling, a ductless heat pump contractor in Methuen Massachusetts that specializes in the installation, maintenance, and repair of ductless mini split heat pump systems.

Among the credentials considered during the review was the company's status as a Mitsubishi Electric Diamond Contractor, a designation that reflects manufacturer-level training and support. The company is also a Mass Save installer serving the Merrimack Valley, including portions of Essex and Middlesex Counties.

Michelle LaFrance, Founder of Ductless Directory, who is also known as the Duchess of Ductless, described the reasoning behind the selection. "Prestige Heating & Cooling was selected to represent the quality of contractor that Ductless Directory stands for," LaFrance said. "The company brings strong knowledge and experience, and just as important, it treats every ductless installation with the attention to detail that the work deserves."

The selection process placed particular weight on how contractors assess individual homes before recommending equipment. Ductless Directory noted that proper system sizing and individualized evaluation are central factors in installation quality, and that these considerations shaped the review of Prestige Heating & Cooling.

Ruben Espallat, Owner of Prestige Heating and Cooling, addressed the company's approach to home evaluation. "Every project receives the attention to detail it requires, and the home is thoroughly evaluated before any product is recommended," Espallat said. "Homes come in all shapes and sizes, so no home is treated as a one-size-fits-all situation."

Ductless mini split heat pumps provide heating and cooling without the ductwork associated with traditional forced-air systems. The design allows for zoned temperature control and flexibility in placement, factors that make proper sizing and home-specific planning significant to system performance.

The inclusion marks the first in a series of contractor selections announced by Ductless Directory as it continues to expand its listings of ductless HVAC professionals.
