Ionox has is very happy to release a customer review of their Ionox pencil grips for handwriting. One of Ionox?s customers posted the five-star review just yesterday, May 30. The verified purchase reviewer praised the grips for helping her son control his grip on his writing instruments, which helped lessen the cramping and pain he was experiencing during writing.

?It?s wonderful to hear that our product is making a difference in someone?s life. We designed these grips to make writing more fun and comfortable, and it sounds like it achieved just that with this particular client. We hope others will have as much success with our pencil grips, and find that it improves their quality of life or experience at school,? said an employee at Ionox.

The complete review reads, ?my son grips his pencils really tight and always complains that it hurts his fingers. So I got these for him. Not only do I love that these come in different colors, but they are helping him hold his pencil the right way, and it doesn't cause his fingers to hurt! He hates writing because it always hurt his fingers, now since using these, and stopping the pain he is becoming a lot better at writing, and its getting easier for him! These are a must have for anyone who has to write a lot, or for kids that are having issues with writing and griping the pencil too hard!?

The product description for the Ionox pencil grips reads, "MAKE WRITING FUN AGAIN: These colorful, soft ergonomic pencil grips make writing comfortable. Whether you need pencil grips for children who have trouble gripping a pencil or for an adult with arthritis, it's no fun trying to write with something that seems to constantly want to slip through your fingers. Fumble no more with this pencil grip for writing. We give you 12 of them in an awesome array of colors, so if you're bored with one, just slip a different color one for the fun of it."

The grips are also available in a 6-pack. To view the grips, visit <http://www.amazon.com/pencil-grips-for-handwriting/dp/b01415jirk/>.
