National Corporate Research, Ltd. (NCR,) occupying an office space in JGM Properties Earle Brown Plaza, is a professional registered agent company that has been providing nationwide statutory representation, corporate and secured transaction services since 1980.

For more than thirty years, National Corporate Research, Ltd. (NCR) has been providing leading edge service and solutions for law firms, financial institutions and business entities to help them comply with countless legal requirements in all fifty states.

NCR provides real property, business license, legislative and government agency research services and offers a variety of services for law librarians.

It has always been the mission of NCR to offer the highest quality of service possible at fair and reasonable prices. Central to this mission has been our ability to hire and retain the most competent and knowledgeable service specialists and managers in our industry, says Jody Patterson of NCR.

NCR was founded in 1980 as "National Code Corporation" by Howard and Joan Wagner with the vision of assisting New York law firms through the complexities of Article 9 Uniform Commercial Code filing and searching throughout the country. Over the years, NCR continued to thrive and expand service offerings to include additional solutions for the markets they serve.

They make significant contributions of time and effort to such industry trade associations as, The International Association of Commercial Administrators (IACA), The National Public Records Research Association (NPRRA), The Law Librarians Society of Washington, DC (LLSDC) and many paralegal associations throughout the country.

"At NCR, we know that our clients want to work with a service company that understands the importance of their transactions and recognizes the need to return calls and respond to e-mail promptly. We also know the legal and financial professionals we work with want their service company to be proactive in communicating the status of orders and resolving any issues that may arise in the course of a transaction," says Patterson.

NCR's staff is empowered to provide the information and solutions clients need. Their clients find it to be a refreshing change to work with service specialists who take pride in going the extra mile to ensure your questions are answered and needs are met.
