

The Dumpster Co. Offers Portable Toilet Rental for Outdoor Events Across Middle Georgia This Fall

September 10, 2026

JACKSON, GA - September 10, 2026 -
The Dumpster Co., a locally owned waste management company headquartered in Jackson, is highlighting its portable toilet rental service for event organizers across middle and north-central Georgia ahead of the fall outdoor season. The company added portable restroom rental to its lineup earlier this year alongside its established roll-off dumpster business and is now making the service available to community groups, event planners, and organizers scheduling outdoor functions this fall. The service covers standard units, ADA-accessible portable toilets, handwashing stations, and restroom trailers, with delivery available throughout Butts County and the surrounding communities. The Dumpster Co. has served since 2020.

Portable sanitation is one of the more practical details outdoor events require and one that often gets addressed late. Permits, vendor coordination, adequate unit counts, and setup timing all factor in before the first guest arrives. The Dumpster Co. approaches portable toilet rental for events the same way it approaches its roll-off dumpster business: straightforward service and clear pricing with no hidden fees.

"People put significant effort into outdoor events and then forget about sanitation until the last minute," said Joe Hardin, co-founder of The Dumpster Co. "We are already out in these communities delivering dumpsters to job sites and homes. Adding portable restroom rental for events was a natural extension of what we already do, and it means organizers in middle Georgia have a local option they can call directly."

The fall season across middle Georgia brings a range of community events that require on-site portable sanitation: outdoor concerts, charity runs, school fundraisers, church events, sporting events, farm gatherings, and community fairs among them. Many of these events take place on properties or grounds with no existing restroom infrastructure or with facilities that cannot accommodate peak attendance. Portable restroom rental fills that gap without requiring permanent facility upgrades or reliance on venue restrooms that may be inadequate for the crowd size.

The Dumpster Co. offers multiple unit types to match the needs and tone of different events. Standard portable toilets, commonly called porta potty rentals, are built for high-use, practical applications and are the most common choice for community gatherings and sporting events. ADA-accessible portable toilets are designed to meet federal accessibility guidelines, and event organizers should confirm the specific accessibility requirements that apply to their event and venue. Handwashing stations provide a dedicated place for soap and water handwashing, which is especially important at food-service events, markets, and family-oriented gatherings where hand sanitizer alone is not sufficient. Restroom trailers offer a higher-end experience with flushing fixtures, running water, interior lighting, and climate control, making them appropriate for weddings, fundraisers, and outdoor events where guest comfort is a priority.

Determining the right number of units for an event involves several factors: expected attendance, duration of the event, whether food and beverages are being served, and the ratio of male to female attendees. The Dumpster Co. can walk event planners through the calculation and recommend a unit count based on those specifics. For events spanning multiple hours or multiple days, servicing schedules ensure units stay clean and functional throughout the event's duration.

"We want event organizers in middle Georgia to know this service is available locally," Hardin said. "You do not have to coordinate with a company that has no real presence in the area. We are based here. We serve these communities every week. When something comes up on the day of your event, you are calling a local team that can respond, not an out-of-state dispatch line."

The Dumpster Co. delivers portable restroom rental throughout its 16-city service area, which spans middle and north-central Georgia, including Jackson, McDonough, Locust Grove, Covington, Conyers, Griffin, Forsyth, Greensboro, Madison, Eatonton, Milledgeville, Stockbridge, Hampton, Flovilla, Jenkinsburg, and Monticello. Event planners are encouraged to contact the company in advance of their event date to confirm unit availability and coordinate delivery and servicing schedules, particularly for multi-day events where demand on units will be higher.

Portable toilet rental is available alongside The Dumpster Co.'s roll-off dumpster services, meaning event organizers who need both waste containers and portable restrooms for a larger outdoor event can arrange both through a single provider. That coordination simplifies the vendor management process and eliminates the scheduling conflicts that can arise when multiple companies are responsible for separate pieces of the same event setup.
