United Van Rentals, a van rental company in Irvine, CA, is now offering full-service options in Anaheim.

Their van rental options are perfect for family trips to Disney and so much more.

"If you're visiting Anaheim, it's probably for business or because you're visiting one of the city's world-famous theme parks. Our service for Anaheim van rentals offers numerous options that are perfect for either circumstance," said Louis Della Penna, business manager of United Van Rentals. "Whether you're planning a family vacation or a business trip with multiple members of your team, we've got you covered. With a variety of amenities and seating options, United Van Rentals is your place for clean, comfortable and top-quality van rentals when you're in the city that Walt built."

United Van Rentals has various vehicles with a large number of features and plenty of room. All vehicles that are available for rent have been built for both comfort and safety, and are truly high-end models. They are perfect for business and family trips alike. Each van can hold as many as 15 passengers, while still leaving enough room for equipment or luggage. The fleet of vans come with tinted windows for added privacy, top of the line entertainment systems, additional safety features, and air conditioning for extra comfort.

The company is proud of the fact that their services have received consistent positive reviews from their customers. "We are so grateful to have found these guys at United," says Gaby G. on the company's Facebook page. "Their staff provides excellent customer service, as well as quality/clean/nice vans for rental. My company rents from United on a regular basis and has never been disappointed. They make the rental process absolutely painless - no hassle and great pricing. Their location is clutch (right by John Wayne Airport), and you will not find better service or quality of product. Would recommend to anyone - check them out."
