

PuroClean of Nanuet Prepares Rockland County Residents for Flash Flood Water Damage Season

September 22, 2026

NANUET, NY - September 22, 2026 -

As autumn arrives and seasonal storm patterns intensify across the region, PuroClean of Nanuet is reminding Rockland County property owners to prepare for the heightened risk of flash flood water damage in the coming months. Fall weather frequently brings heavy rainfall and rapid runoff that can overwhelm drainage systems, leaving homes and businesses vulnerable to sudden flooding.

Water intrusion during fall storms often develops quickly, and delayed response can lead to structural deterioration, mold growth, and damage to personal property. The company notes that early preparation and rapid mitigation are central to limiting the impact of flooding events on both residential and commercial properties.

PuroClean of Nanuet - Water Damage Specialists provides emergency water damage mitigation throughout the area, including moisture detection, standing water extraction, drying and dehumidification, and sanitization. The company uses specialized equipment to identify hidden moisture within walls, floors, and other building materials that may not be visible during an initial inspection.

"Fall flooding tends to arrive faster than many property owners expect, and the water that seeps into a structure can cause problems long after the visible flooding recedes," said Mitch Cohen, owner of PuroClean of Nanuet. "Understanding the risk ahead of time and knowing who to call allows residents to respond quickly, which makes a meaningful difference in the outcome of a restoration project."

The company recommends that property owners take basic preparatory steps before storms arrive, including clearing gutters and drains, inspecting sump pumps, and identifying areas of the property that have flooded in the past. These measures can reduce the likelihood of water intrusion and help residents identify problems sooner when flooding does occur.

Beyond water damage services, the company offers fire and smoke damage restoration, mold removal and remediation, and biohazard cleanup. Its water damage process includes rapid extraction of standing water, thorough drying and dehumidification, and deodorization to restore affected properties to a safe and functional condition.

"The goal is always to restore a property as efficiently as possible while protecting the health and safety of the people who live and work there," Cohen said. "Seasonal awareness is an important part of that effort, and reminding the community about flood risk each fall is one way to help."

PuroClean of Rockford County serves a broad portion of the region, with response coverage extending to communities including Airmont, Bardonia, Chestnut Ridge, Congers, Haverstraw, Hillcrest, Monsey, Montebello, Nanuet, New City, Nyack, Pomona, Spring Valley, Suffern, and Tallman. This coverage allows the company to reach affected properties across multiple municipalities during periods of widespread flooding.
