

Champion Pro Deck Marks Milestone of More Than 2,000 Five-Star Reviews Across Knoxville Deck Repair and Construction Work

September 28, 2026

KNOXVILLE, TN - September 28, 2026 -

Champion Pro Deck, a veteran-owned deck-building company serving the Knoxville region, has surpassed 2,000 five-star customer reviews while maintaining a 4.8 overall rating on Google. The milestone reflects sustained demand for the company's composite deck construction, repair, and staining services throughout the area.

The company specializes in composite decking engineered to resist fading, staining, scratching, moisture infiltration, and insect activity. By partnering with leading composite decking manufacturers, Champion Pro Deck provides homeowners with a broad selection of colors, textures, and finishes suited to a variety of outdoor spaces.

Beyond new construction, the company offers repair services that restore the structural integrity of aging or damaged decks. This work ranges from replacing individual boards to reinforcing framing and addressing safety concerns. Staining services and ongoing deck maintenance round out the company's offerings, helping homeowners extend the lifespan of existing structures and protect them against the elements.

A representative for Champion Pro Deck noted that the review milestone stems from a consistent approach to craftsmanship and communication. "Reaching more than 2,000 five-star reviews is a direct result of treating every project with the same discipline and attention to detail, whether the job involves a full composite build or a straightforward repair," the representative said. "Homeowners across Knoxville have come to expect reliable work, and that expectation shapes how each project is handled from consultation through completion."

The company operates as a veteran-owned business staffed by licensed and insured professionals. Its services include custom deck construction, structural repairs, staining, and consultation on design and material selection. Consultation services allow property owners to review options for layout, materials, and long-term upkeep before committing to a project.

Examples of the customer feedback that contributed to the milestone can be found among the company's public reviews, including those listed at knoxvilledeck.com. The volume of positive feedback spans both large-scale builds and smaller service calls, reflecting a range of project types completed over time.

The representative added that ongoing care remains a priority for customers after installation. "A deck is a long-term investment, and proper deck maintenance is what keeps composite and wood surfaces performing well season after season," the representative said. "Part of the consultation process involves walking homeowners through what upkeep their specific materials require."

Champion Pro Deck reports that composite materials continue to grow in popularity among regional homeowners due to their durability and reduced upkeep compared to traditional wood. The company attributes part of its recent growth to that shift, as more property owners seek surfaces designed to withstand humidity and temperature swings common to the region.
