Tuck & Howell Plumbing, Heating & Air Highlights Home Comfort Support for Growing Duncan Neighborhoods

September 28, 2026

DUNCAN, SC - September 28, 2026 -
As new residential developments and busy family schedules reshape daily life across Duncan, South Carolina, homeowners increasingly rely on dependable systems for heating, cooling, and plumbing. Tuck & Howell Plumbing, Heating & Air, a family owned and operated company serving the area since 1969, continues to serve as a home comfort resource for households throughout the community and surrounding Spartanburg County.

The growth of neighborhoods in and around Duncan has brought more families into homes that depend on air conditioning during humid summers and reliable heating through cooler months. With household routines built around work, school, and family activities, unexpected equipment failures can disrupt daily life. The company reports that steady demand for both routine service and urgent repairs reflects how essential these systems have become for local residents.

HVAC and plumbing services by Tuck & Howell Plumbing, Heating & Air cover a broad range of everyday household needs. On the heating and cooling side, the company handles AC service, furnace and heat pump support, ductwork, and indoor air quality solutions designed to keep homes comfortable throughout the year. On the plumbing side, technicians respond to leaking pipes, clogged drains, and water heater failures, along with planned work such as fixture installation and water line replacement.

Much of the company's focus rests on preventive maintenance, which helps homeowners avoid larger and more disruptive problems. Seasonal tune-ups before peak heating and cooling periods allow systems to run efficiently, while regular inspections catch small issues before they grow into emergencies. For aging equipment, the company offers guidance on whether repair or replacement makes the most sense based on system age, efficiency, and repair history.

"Duncan has changed a great deal since 1969, but the need for a home that stays comfortable has not," said Jay Mahaffey, owner of Tuck & Howell Plumbing, Heating & Air - Duncan, SC. "Families here are busy, and they want systems that simply work. Being family owned means the people answering the call and doing the work are part of this same community."

The company emphasizes whole home comfort, viewing heating, cooling, and plumbing as connected parts of a healthy household rather than separate concerns. That approach includes attention to indoor air quality, ductwork condition, and water systems, all of which contribute to how a home feels day to day.

"A comfortable home is more than a single thermostat setting," Mahaffey said. "It is clean air, steady temperatures, and plumbing that holds up under the demands of a full household. Serving Duncan homeowners across generations has shaped the way the work gets done."

Tuck & Howell Plumbing, Heating & Air provides HVAC and plumbing services to Duncan and nearby communities including Greer, Lyman, Reidville, Startex, and Wellford. Services range from AC repair and replacement to furnace support, water heaters, drains, and indoor air quality improvements. Family owned and operated since 1969, the company continues to focus on practical, dependable home comfort for households across the region.
