

Landmark Tree Care Highlights Five-Star Reputation and Round-the-Clock Emergency Tree Removal

September 29, 2026

COLUMBIA, MO - September 29, 2026 -

Landmark Tree Care, a professional tree care company serving Columbia and the surrounding communities in Boone County, Missouri, has reaffirmed its commitment to safety and reliability as it marks a consistent five-star customer rating across its full range of services. The company, which operates 24 hours a day, continues to expand its role as a trusted resource for homeowners and property managers throughout the region.

The company provides a comprehensive slate of services that includes tree removal, tree pruning, stump grinding, tree and plant health care, land clearing, and emergency response. Its team of ISA Certified Arborists focuses on matching the correct technique to each species and site condition, an approach that reflects both local knowledge and respect for the urban forest.

Among the company's most requested offerings is its emergency service, staffed by a response team on standby around the clock. Fallen limbs and toppled trees following storms often create hazardous conditions for families and structures, and the availability of prompt assistance has become an increasingly important part of the company's reputation. Reviews left by clients, which can be viewed among the company's five-star testimonials, frequently cite responsiveness and careful cleanup as reasons for their satisfaction.

Landmark Tree Care was founded by Owen Alexander, who began climbing trees at the age of 14 and trained under a third-generation arborist and Midwest tree climbing champion. Alexander now leads a team dedicated to honest recommendations, sustainable methods, and respect for every property.

"A five-star rating is earned one job at a time," said Owen Alexander, owner of Landmark Tree Care. "Whether a project involves routine tree pruning or the safe removal of a hazardous specimen, the goal remains the same: to protect the property, the people, and the trees that give these neighborhoods their character."

The company approaches tree removal as a task requiring careful planning, proper equipment, and consideration for surrounding structures and utilities. It specializes in removing hazardous, diseased, or unwanted trees while preserving the remaining landscape. Its tree pruning and trimming work follows industry best practices, removing deadwood, improving structure, and encouraging strong future growth for both residential and commercial properties.

Alexander noted that consistent maintenance plays a central role in reducing storm-related risk. "Healthy, well-maintained trees are far less likely to fail during severe weather," he said. "Attention to canopy health throughout the year can prevent the kind of damage that leads to emergency calls later on."

Beyond storm response and routine care, Landmark Tree Care offers stump grinding to help clients reclaim their yards, land clearing for construction and landscaping projects, and plant health assessments that support the long-term vitality of trees across a property. The company emphasizes transparent pricing and long-term relationships built on trust.

Landmark Tree Care in Columbia, Missouri, combines modern equipment with time-tested techniques to keep trees strong and landscapes healthy, handling everything from young tree training to the preservation of mature specimens throughout the region it serves.
