

The Boss Company Announces New Partnership with Xerox

October 08, 2026

October 08, 2026 -

The Boss Company today announced a partnership with Xerox, a global technology company with more than 120 years of innovation leadership. This collaboration will enable The Boss Company to deliver advanced digital solutions to organizations across the Southeast.

Through this partnership, The Boss Company will integrate Xerox managed print and copy services into its offerings, helping clients reduce costs and increase workflow efficiency.

"Xerox is a global technology company with more than 120 years of innovation leadership in print, and we are proud to represent their brand in the state of Alabama," said Troy McCawley, President of The Boss Company.

Xerox continues to invest in technologies that empower a more connected and productive workplace. This partnership provides customers with flexible, scalable solutions that support hybrid work, automation, and secure digital workflows.

About The Boss Company

Headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama, The Boss Company is a comprehensive business technology solutions provider serving organizations throughout the Southeast. The company specializes in helping businesses simplify their technology needs by bringing multiple essential services together under one trusted partner.

With expertise spanning managed IT services, cybersecurity, data security, business communications, VoIP, carrier services, audio-visual technology, digital marketing, and copy and print solutions, The Boss Company delivers integrated services tailored to the operational needs of each organization. Rather than offering a one-size-fits-all approach, the company works with clients to identify opportunities for greater efficiency, improved connectivity, and long-term growth.

A central part of The Boss Company's approach is helping businesses navigate an increasingly complex technology landscape. As organizations adopt new systems, expand their operations, and face evolving security concerns, having dependable technology support becomes increasingly important. The Boss Company helps clients address these challenges through proactive IT management, infrastructure support, cybersecurity solutions, and reliable business communication systems.

The company also provides document management, copier services, managed print solutions, and workflow technology designed to streamline everyday operations. By evaluating existing processes and identifying areas for improvement, The Boss Company helps businesses make informed decisions about technology investments while reducing unnecessary complexity.

Beyond equipment and technology implementation, The Boss Company emphasizes ongoing customer support and lasting business relationships. Its team works closely with organizations throughout the planning, installation, training, and maintenance processes, helping ensure that the solutions provided continue to meet their needs as they evolve.

The Boss Company's integrated approach allows clients to work with a single technology partner rather than coordinating services across multiple providers. This model is designed to simplify vendor management, improve accountability, and create a more consistent experience for businesses seeking dependable technology solutions.

As workplace technology continues to advance, The Boss Company remains focused on connecting organizations with practical, scalable solutions that support productivity and business growth. Its partnership with Xerox reflects that commitment by expanding access to established technology offerings and additional resources for businesses throughout Alabama and the greater Southeast.

Through a commitment to personalized service, innovative technology, and dependable support, The Boss Company continues to help organizations strengthen their operations, adapt to changing business demands, and prepare for future opportunities and growth. The company remains dedicated to building lasting partnerships with businesses across Alabama.
