

Nova Warranty Expands Rolls-Royce Extended Warranty Coverage Across Seven Models

October 13, 2026

WILMINGTON, DE - October 13, 2026 -

Nova Warranty has expanded its vehicle service program offerings for Rolls-Royce owners, providing coverage for seven models including the Phantom, Ghost, Cullinan, Wraith, Dawn, Spectre, and Phantom Black Badge. The expansion addresses the rising cost of repairs associated with the specialized engineering and complex systems found in luxury vehicles once the original factory warranty expires.

The company reports that owners of high-end automobiles often face substantial out-of-pocket repair expenses even when vehicles have been carefully maintained. A Rolls-Royce extended warranty is designed to help cover eligible repair costs when covered mechanical or electrical components fail, subject to contract terms, exclusions, and deductibles. The structure reflects a growing demand among luxury vehicle owners for continued financial protection after manufacturer coverage ends.

Nova Warranty offers two primary vehicle service programs. The Nova Superior plan covers a range of components, including turbos and superchargers, all-wheel drive systems, differential assembly, suspension, steering, fuel systems, anti-lock braking, and high-tech electronics. The Nova Powertrain plan focuses on components such as the engine, transmission, drive axle, electrical systems, cooling, and brakes. Both include 24-hour roadside assistance, towing, rental car reimbursement, and trip interruption service.

The company structures its Nova Warranty protection plans to address model-specific concerns documented across the Rolls-Royce lineup. These include engine oil leaks associated with certain Phantom vehicles, overheating issues reported in Dawn models, and transmission concerns noted among Wraith Black Badge owners equipped with the eight-speed automatic gearbox. Owners may also customize coverage to include the components and services most relevant to their individual vehicles.

"Luxury vehicles like the Rolls-Royce require specialized care, and repair costs can escalate quickly once factory coverage ends," said a spokesperson for Nova Warranty. "The expansion of coverage across seven models reflects an effort to meet the distinct needs of owners who want continued protection tailored to their specific vehicle."

Nova Warranty also provides ASE Certified Facility Assistance, directing covered repairs to a network of certified facilities. The company notes that its agents assist owners throughout the coverage selection process and that pricing is determined through individual quotes based on vehicle year, make, model, and mileage.

"Each Rolls-Royce owner has different priorities, which is why customized coverage options remain central to the service," the spokesperson added. "The goal is to provide clarity and dependable support rather than a one-size-fits-all approach."

Nova Warranty notes that a vehicle service program is not a warranty in the traditional sense, but a contract between the customer and the provider that defines covered and excluded repairs. Terms such as extended warranty and vehicle service contract are used for descriptive purposes. Published, trusted customer reviews reflect customer feedback on the company's service and coverage terms.

Nova Warranty is a provider of vehicle service programs specializing in coverage for luxury, exotic, vintage, and everyday vehicles. With more than 40 years of combined industry experience, the company offers protection plans designed to help owners manage repair expenses after manufacturer coverage ends, supported by a team of agents and a network of certified repair facilities.
