Thyroid Health Club Launches Advanced Thyroid Support Formula On Amazon

August 23, 2016

August 23, 2016 -
Thyroid Health Club, based in Wexford, Ireland, has launched a new product onto the Amazon marketplace. The company recently announced that their advanced thyroid formula is now available for customer purchase.

Obada Yousif, MD, founder of Thyroid Health Club, states, "Thyroid health is much more important than many people realize, which is one reason why we've released this particular product."

Dr. Yousif states that Thyroid Support includes ingredients like L-tyrosine, kelp, and bladderwrack, which have been found to be good sources of iodine. Iodine is crucial in the production of thyroid hormones that can help to alleviate fatigue, dry hair, depression, weight gain, and poor memory, among other symptoms.

"There are a number of symptoms of thyroid underactivity," says Dr. Yousif. "The most commonly reported symptoms of an underactive thyroid include temperature fluctuation, memory loss, dry skin, and various others. Our formula helps to combat those symptoms by increasing hormone production in the thyroid."

Dr. Yousif says that boosting thyroid hormone production can offer more energy, and alleviate a number of the other symptoms associated with low production levels. He states that the formula does not contain any fillers like eggs, yeast, dairy, corn, nuts, artificial flavoring, sugar, sweeteners and other ingredients that are not necessary and that may even cause adverse reactions.

Dr. Obada Yousif is a consultant endocrinologist with over 25 years of experience and an in-depth understanding of the challenges posed by traditional medicinal products and the risks associated with their use. He strives to provide today's families with a wide range of quality products that will help them get the most out of their lives.

Thyroid Health Club is owned by parent company Somasix. Somasix offers a line of Educational Toys for children, which are also available on the Amazon marketplace. The toys are popular items among parents of toddlers and pre-school aged children preparing to enter kindergarten.

Those interested in learning more about the ingredients and the benefits of the new formula from Thyroid Health Support can visit the company's official Amazon marketplace page, where a complete list of products offered by the company can be found.
