August 11, 2016 -

Stephanie Beck has made a presentation at that the World Massage Conference, which is the only conference of its kind in Massage Therapy and Bodywork. Stephanie, who is the founder of SRB Solutions, a business in San Diego, CA, offered a special presentation at this online event on Sunday, June 5th. She was featured as a presenter on Massage Marketing and Management Mastery, her particular area of expertise.

Stephanie Beck herself says: "The World Massage Conference is a virtual conference that you watch live from the convenience of your home or office. It's the largest event of it's kind in the history of massage for eight years and if you've never attended it before, you are in for a treat. Learn from some of the leading massage experts from around the world."

The World Massage Conference is very popular with massage and bodywork professionals from the world over because it is so easy to attend. Since it can be attended from someone's home, it is much easier for professionals to fit around their busy lifestyle as well. During the event, professionals are able to access over 30 hours of continuing education. They were also provided the opportunity to have a one-on-one chat with Stephanie.

Those who were unable to attend the event live will still have a chance to access the information. It has been fully recorded and available until February 2017. Those who view Stephanie's presentation between now and February will be able to download the free marketing tools, books, and more that she discussed.

During the Massage Marketing and Management Mastery presentation, links to FREE bonus items were shared every 20 minutes. Additionally, at the end of the presentation, a link to nine FREE bonus ebooks and worksheets are shared. As such, massage and bodyworkers are able to obtain all the necessary continuing education credits they need to retain their certification. Furthermore, it provides them with important marketing advice from Stephanie, who is recognized as being one of the top experts in the industry.
