Stephanie Beck is highlighting her article in The Chiropractic Assistant magazine. The article is entitled 'Facebook Announces Its New Personal Assistant Built Into Messenger' and discusses how this can be effective for healthcare practices, helping them to lighten the load. This has been shown to be particularly beneficial for chiropractic assistants (CAs).

SRB Solutions, which is based in San Diego, CA, is the brainchild of Stephanie Beck, a highly respected online marketing expert with 15 years experience in the health and wellness industry. She has written countless articles and publications, as well as three bestselling books, and has contributed to important textbooks in the health and wellness industry. As part of her company's goal, she aims to keep people informed about important developments in the world of online marketing so that they can adapt their strategies to suit.

"The internet marketing world has been buzzing about Facebook's bold answer to Siri and Cortana," says Stephanie Beck. "In a Facebook post on August 26, David Marcus, lead Facebook Messenger, shared an update about Facebook's newest service called M. As you may know, Apple has Siri, while Microsoft has Cortana or Google Now. Find out more about this new feature of AI and human combo that could make your life better."

Stephanie has also recently launched a free 15 min free conversation that she encourages everyone to take advantage of. During this conversation, she will be able to discuss how social media, and Facebook in particular, can bring a chiropractic office five, 10, or even 20 and more patients every month, on a consistent basis.

Stephanie is one of the most respected experts in online marketing and she keeps her eye on the ball at all times. She frequently publishes in various health magazines and websites, but she also maintains her own personal blog, which is updated regularly. She recommends that everyone subscribe to blog for latest news. "Whenever I spot something new, I share it and my thoughts about it on my blog," she explains. "Sometimes, I end up writing a more in-depth article on the subject for a major publication, but if you subscribe to my blog, you will always be one of the first to know."
