

Sunstar Construction & Remodeling Highlights Bathroom Renovation Solutions for St. George Homeowners

October 26, 2026

ST. GEORGE, UT - October 26, 2026 -
Sunstar Construction & Remodeling, a licensed general contractor based in Southern Utah, is drawing attention to the growing number of St. George homeowners seeking to update aging bathrooms that no longer meet modern functionality and design standards. Many homes in the region feature bathrooms with outdated layouts, worn finishes, and fixtures that have reached the end of their useful life, prompting a renewed focus on practical renovation options.

As homes built during earlier development periods continue to age, common issues have emerged. These include cramped layouts that limit movement, water damage from aging plumbing and sealing, dated tile and cabinetry, and insufficient lighting and storage. Sunstar Construction & Remodeling bathroom remodels address these concerns through layout redesigns, tile replacement, vanity installations, and lighting updates, using quality fixtures and waterproof materials suited to daily use.

The company maintains an in-house bathroom cabinet shop, which supports timelines and quality control throughout each project. This approach allows for custom renovations of varying scales, ranging from master suite upgrades and walk-in shower installations to full layout reconfigurations tailored to how a household actually uses the space.

Kevin Tatom, owner of Sunstar Construction & Remodeling, noted that functionality often drives homeowner decisions as much as appearance. "Many of the bathrooms in older St. George homes were designed for a different era, and the way families use these spaces has changed considerably," Tatom said. "Updating a worn or inefficient layout is not only about aesthetics. It is about correcting water issues, improving storage, and making a space that works for everyday life."

Sunstar Construction & Remodeling serving St. George also provides a broader range of residential and commercial services, allowing homeowners to coordinate bathroom work alongside other projects when needed.

The focus on bathroom renovation reflects wider trends in Southern Utah, where property owners are investing in existing homes rather than relocating. Updated bathrooms often rank among the most frequently cited priorities for such improvements, given their role in daily routines and long-term home value.

Tatom added that transparency remains central to how the company approaches each renovation. "Homeowners want to understand the scope and the process before work begins," he said. "Clear communication and detailed planning help reduce surprises, particularly on renovations that involve plumbing, waterproofing, and finishing in a single connected space."

Beyond bathrooms, the company handles flooring installation, building additions, and office renovations, as well as Sunstar Construction & Remodeling kitchen remodeling for households updating multiple areas of the home.
