October 19, 2026

BOCA RATON, FL - October 19, 2026 -
Outdoor Lighting Concepts, the Boca Raton specialist in luxury landscape and decorative accent lighting, has been named WAC Landscape Lighting's Diamond Contractor of the Year. The recognition follows the company's work transforming South Florida properties into nighttime showcases that extend outdoor living well beyond sunset.

The Diamond Contractor of the Year distinction is awarded by WAC Landscape Lighting to firms that demonstrate excellence in design execution, installation quality, and long-term system performance. The honor places Outdoor Lighting Concepts among a select group of contractors recognized for consistency across residential and commercial projects throughout the region.

Based in Boca Raton, the company provides design-focused illumination for homes and businesses, including curb appeal lighting, pathway lighting, garden and waterfall lighting, hardscape lighting, and lighting control automation. Much of the recognized work centered on Outdoor Lighting Concepts decorative accent lighting, which highlights architectural features, mature landscaping, and water elements after dark. The approach allows property owners to use outdoor spaces during evening hours while improving visibility and safety along walkways and entrances.

Spencer Freiman of Outdoor Lighting Concepts said the award reflects the team's attention to both design and maintenance. "This recognition from WAC Landscape Lighting acknowledges the care that goes into every project, from the initial design through ongoing service," Freiman said. "South Florida homeowners want their properties to look as impressive at night as they do during the day, and thoughtful lighting makes that possible."

The company reports steady demand for outdoor lighting service in Boca Raton, FL, where year-round outdoor living and distinctive landscaping create ongoing interest in evening illumination. Projects range from single accent installations that frame a specimen tree to full-property systems incorporating automation, color options, and integrated outdoor audio.

Freiman noted that the Diamond Contractor designation also reflects the firm's proactive maintenance practices. "A lighting system performs best when it is cared for over time," he said. "Part of earning this honor involves making sure installations continue to function and look their intended way season after season."

Outdoor Lighting Concepts serves properties across Boca Raton and surrounding communities in FL, with additional locations covering Broward, Palm Beach, Miami, Tampa, and the Treasure Coast. The company works with both residential clients and commercial property managers seeking lighting plans suited to specific sites and budgets.

The WAC Landscape Lighting award program evaluates contractors on criteria that include design creativity, technical installation standards, and client service. Recognition as Diamond Contractor of the Year represents the program's highest tier of acknowledgment for participating firms.
