

Cavod Academy Registration For 2016/2017 Performing Arts Classes Now Open

June 20, 2016

June 20, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Cavod Academy of the Arts, which is based in New Holland, PA, is happy to announce that registration is now open for the 2016/2017 school year. The academy offers dance, gymnastics, acting, and music classes to Lancaster County, PA families. Those who are interested are encouraged to view available performance arts classes on the academy's website.

Connie Dienner from the Cavod Academy says: "Cavod Academy of the Arts is dedicated to raising the standard in godly artistic expression. Students will learn and refine their technique in a safe and disciplined environment from professionally trained instructors. Classes are designed for a well-rounded and enriching educational experience. The physical and emotional development of each student is a top priority for Cavod instructors."

The school offers a full range of dance classes for all ages and skill levels. These include ballet, modern, jazz, hip hop, tap, and worship dance. They also offer gymnastics for toddlers to teens at multiple skill levels. In terms of their acting classes, they cover a variety of skills and provide the opportunity to participate in live productions. Additionally, they offer a range of private music lessons for piano, guitar, drums, and voice.

The school has just released the class schedule for the 2016/2017 academic year and interested people can register for the classes through the academy's website. Their website also features an online catalog where parents can view all the classes that are offered, filtering by genre and skill level. The website also enables people to learn more about Cavod Academy and their vision for "raising the standard in godly artistic expression."

"As a Christian organization, we are dedicated to teaching students and creating a community where they can develop in the performing arts," adds Connie Dienner. "We empower young people to discover and then develop their talents, while at the same time glorifying God in all that we do."

The Cavod Academy website at www.cavodacademy.com provides details about the school's values and mission, as well as show the prospectus and more. The school is committed to empowering young artists to discover their talents, and to challenge them to develop them more. They do this in an environment that is family friendly, and in which God is placed at the center of all teachings.
