

Law Office of Jay G. Wall Introduces Spanish-Speaking DUI Services for Criminal Defense Clients

November 06, 2026

Woodstock, Georgia - November 06, 2026 -
The Law Office of Jay G. Wall, a criminal defense firm serving communities across Georgia, has announced the addition of Spanish-speaking services for all criminal defense clients. The new offering extends to DUI defense, traffic charges, and a range of other criminal cases handled by the firm.

The expansion addresses a longstanding need among Spanish-speaking residents who face criminal charges and often encounter barriers when seeking legal representation. By providing services in Spanish, the firm aims to ensure that language no longer stands between individuals and a clear understanding of their rights and options under the law.

Founded and led by Jay G Wall, an experienced defense attorney and former prosecutor, the firm has built its practice around criminal defense for adults and juveniles throughout Woodstock, Canton, Holly Springs, Waleska, Ball Ground, and Hickory Flat. The firm's caseload includes all felony and misdemeanor charges, assault, theft, drug charges, probation violations, traffic violations, and DUI defense.

Spanish-speaking clients will now be able to communicate about their cases directly in their preferred language, from initial consultation through the resolution of their matter. The service covers the firm's primary practice areas, with particular attention to DUI defense and mental health defense, two areas where clear communication between attorney and client is especially important.

"Access to justice depends on access to understanding," said Jay G. Wall, founding attorney of the firm. "When someone is facing criminal charges, every detail matters, and clients deserve to follow each step of their case without worrying about a language gap. Offering services in Spanish allows the firm to serve a broader portion of the Georgia community with the same level of attention given to every client."

The firm's background in both prosecution and defense informs its approach to each matter. Having worked as a former prosecutor, Jay G. Wall brings an understanding of how the opposing side builds a case, which the firm applies when representing clients facing charges. That perspective extends to the newly available Spanish-speaking services, where the goal remains to protect the rights and, in DUI matters, the driving privileges of those the firm represents.

"The legal process can feel overwhelming in any language," Wall added. "The addition of Spanish-speaking support reflects a commitment to making sure clients understand what is happening at each stage and can make informed decisions about their defense."

In addition to DUI and mental health defense, the firm handles juvenile defense, self-defense cases, probation violation matters, traffic violations, and background check assistance. The Spanish-speaking services apply across these practice areas, giving a wider range of clients the ability to engage with the firm in their own language.
