

Aqua-Bright Irrigation & Illumination Announces Year-Round Holiday Lighting Installation Service

November 03, 2026

SYKESVILLE, MD - November 03, 2026 -
Aqua-Bright Irrigation & Illumination, LLC is highlighting its professional holiday lighting services for residential and commercial properties ahead of the 2026 holiday season. The Sykesville, Maryland-based company offers customized lighting design, installation, and post-season removal to help property owners prepare their homes and businesses for seasonal celebrations.

The seasonal services are available to property owners throughout the Washington DC Metro region, including Columbia, Howard County, Montgomery County, Annapolis, and Anne Arundel County. Aqua-Bright also serves communities in Northern Virginia. With the holiday season approaching, the company is encouraging residential and commercial property owners to begin planning lighting installations ahead of the busiest decorating weeks.

For residential customers, Aqua-Bright provides customized holiday lighting arrangements that can include illuminated rooflines, wrapped trees and shrubs, decorative wreaths, and other exterior lighting displays. The company uses energy-efficient LED lighting, which generally consumes less electricity and lasts longer than traditional incandescent lighting. Designs are developed according to the property's architecture, landscaping, and the customer's preferences.

An important feature of Aqua-Bright's holiday lighting service is its customer ownership structure. According to the company's website, customers retain ownership of their installed lights, allowing them to reuse the materials in subsequent seasons. Returning customers generally pay for installation labor and maintenance rather than purchasing an entirely new lighting system each year.

The company's commercial holiday lighting services accommodate shopping centers, retail storefronts, office buildings, and other commercial properties. Projects can include coordinated lighting displays, illuminated rooflines, wreaths, and decorative lighting for trees and landscaping. Aqua-Bright's technicians work with property owners and managers to develop lighting arrangements suited to each building's size, layout, and exterior features.

?Many property owners underestimate the time and safety considerations involved in hanging holiday lighting, particularly across rooflines and tall trees,? said a Media Relations spokesperson for Aqua-Bright Irrigation & Illumination. ?Our seasonal services are designed to handle those tasks from start to finish, allowing customers to enjoy their holiday displays without managing the installation and removal themselves.?

Professional holiday lighting installation can reduce the need for property owners to work on ladders, access elevated rooflines, or handle electrical decorations in difficult-to-reach locations. Aqua-Bright's technicians manage the installation process and return after the holiday season to remove the displays. The company also offers maintenance services for customers who prefer to keep certain lighting installations in place throughout the year.

The company encourages early consultation to allow adequate time for project planning, design selection, and installation scheduling. Larger commercial properties may require additional coordination to accommodate building access, landscaping features, and other site-specific considerations.

?Planning ahead gives homeowners and business owners more flexibility when choosing their lighting designs and installation schedules,? the spokesperson added. ?Each property has different requirements, and early consultations help our team evaluate those needs before the holiday season begins.?

In addition to seasonal holiday displays, Aqua-Bright provides year-round outdoor lighting services, including LED landscape lighting retrofits, low-voltage landscape lighting, and illumination for patios, decks, steps, walkways, driveways, and entrances. The company also performs landscape lighting repairs, system adjustments, and ongoing maintenance for existing installations.

Aqua-Bright's broader services include residential and commercial lawn irrigation system installation, repairs, testing, seasonal maintenance, and winterization. These services allow the company to support multiple aspects of exterior property maintenance throughout the year.

Property owners interested in seasonal lighting services can request consultations to discuss design preferences, installation requirements, and project scheduling. Aqua-Bright offers customized solutions for properties ranging from individual residences to larger commercial locations.
