

Champion Pro Deck Highlights Growing Reputation as A Deck Builder in Knoxville TN

October 26, 2026

KNOXVILLE, TN - October 26, 2026 -
Champion Pro deck builder in Knoxville, TN, has reached a notable milestone in customer satisfaction, earning a 4.8 rating on Google supported by more than 2,000 five-star reviews. The achievement reflects the company's sustained focus on craftsmanship, durability, and service across its full range of deck solutions.

The company specializes in composite decking, which is engineered to withstand fading, staining, scratching, moisture infiltration, and insect activity. By partnering with leading composite decking manufacturers, Champion Pro Deck provides homeowners with a broad selection of colors, textures, and finishes designed for long-term performance and visual appeal.

Beyond new construction, the company offers deck repair services intended to restore the integrity and safety of existing structures. These services address loose boards, damaged sections, and structural reinforcement, allowing homeowners to extend the usable life of their outdoor spaces. The company also provides deck staining and consultation services covering design, material selection, and ongoing maintenance.

A representative for Champion Pro Deck noted that the company's record of positive feedback stems from its disciplined approach to each project. "The ratings reflect years of consistent work and attention to detail on every job," the representative said. "A deck is a significant investment, and the goal is to deliver results that hold up over time and meet the expectations of each homeowner."

The company credits its team of licensed and insured professionals for maintaining quality across construction, repair, and staining work. As a veteran-owned business, Champion Pro Deck emphasizes reliability and accountability, values the company connects directly to its service standards.

"Customer satisfaction is measured in the long-term performance of the finished product," the representative added. "The number of five-star reviews indicates that homeowners in the region continue to trust the company with both new installations and ongoing deck repair needs."

Composite decking has grown in popularity among homeowners seeking lower-maintenance alternatives to traditional wood. The material resists common forms of weathering and wear, which reduces the frequency of refinishing and structural upkeep. Champion Pro Deck positions its composite offerings alongside its repair and staining services to support homeowners throughout the lifecycle of their decks.

Examples of the company's customer feedback can be viewed through its Google Maps listing, where homeowners have documented their experiences across more than 2,000 five-star reviews.
