

STM Trucks & Machinery Adds New Holland Construction to Its Inventory

October 23, 2026

October 23, 2026 -

STM Trucks & Machinery has become an authorised New Holland Construction dealer, expanding its compact machinery offerings across New South Wales. The family-owned dealership began selling New Holland skid steers and compact track loaders at all three locations this month, giving landscapers, tradespeople and small businesses more equipment options.

The dealership partnership strategically expands STM Trucks & Machinery's compact equipment portfolio, serving contractors who need versatile machinery for construction, landscaping, and agricultural applications. New Holland Construction's compact equipment line complements the company's existing machinery brands, including ASV compact track loaders and Kobelco excavators.

STM Trucks & Machinery now offers New Holland's range of skid steers and compact track loaders. The L313, L318, and L320 skid steer loaders are in stock, with rated operating capacities of 590 kg, 818 kg, and 905 kg, and engine outputs of 36 kW, 44.7 kW, and 44.7 kW. STM also offers the larger L325 and L330 skid steers and the C-series compact track loaders, from the C327 with a 1,225 kg rated operating capacity to the C362 with 2,812 kg. The equipment range includes both skid steer and compact track loader configurations, giving customers options suited to different ground conditions and operational requirements across all three STM locations.

“New Holland Construction represents a natural fit for our customer base,” said a spokesperson for STM Trucks & Machinery. “These machines complement our existing compact equipment range and give our customers another choice when they need a skid steer or track loader. The addition of New Holland Construction means customers can buy the machine and its genuine parts from the one dealer.”

The New Holland Construction agreement marks STM’s first new machinery brand partnership since adding Hydrema recently. The dealership now represents multiple major equipment manufacturers in both compact machinery and telehandler segments, alongside its established truck brands.

STM Trucks & Machinery’s three branches enable the company to serve customers across a broad geographic area. The dealership’s established customer relationships span nearly five decades, with many clients relying on it for both initial equipment purchases and ongoing maintenance support throughout the equipment lifecycle.

STM Trucks & Machinery provides genuine and aftermarket New Holland Construction parts through its three locations with delivery services across the region. The company’s mobile service teams perform on-site maintenance and repairs for New Holland equipment throughout the service area. STM’s machinery service team runs four mobile service vehicles and offers 24/7 emergency mobile repairs.

The New Holland Construction range joins STM Trucks & Machinery’s existing compact equipment inventory alongside excavators, telehandlers and compact loaders. STM’s 24-hour emergency service network and in-house financing options support all New Holland machines. Finance is arranged through STM’s in-house finance brokerage and is subject to credit approval.

STM Trucks & Machinery’s services include attachment sales and installation, allowing customers to maximise equipment versatility across different applications. The dealership maintains an attachment inventory to support various industries including construction, landscaping, agriculture and material handling operations.
