

Dinardo Tree Care Expands Arborist Tree Service and Pruning Across Greater Dallas

November 02, 2026

Dallas, TX - November 02, 2026 -
Dinardo Tree Care has expanded its professional arborist and tree trimming services throughout the Greater Dallas region, extending availability to residential and commercial property owners in Dallas, Highland Park, Preston Hollow, Lake Highlands, Lakewood, Coppell, and Highland Village. The expansion broadens access to a full range of tree care offerings delivered under certified industry standards.

The company, led by an ISA Certified Arborist and based in Highland Park, Texas, provides tree pruning, tree and stump removal, deep root fertilization, air spading, storm damage recovery, tree support systems, tree healthcare and diagnosis, insect and disease control, water management, and tree trimming. Each service is structured around the individual needs of the tree rather than a uniform approach.

All work performed by the company follows the ANSI A300 Tree Care Standards, which are approved by the American National Standards Institute. These standards serve as the final authority within the United States civil court system, and compliance confirms that the work aligns with established industry benchmarks. The company is also certified by the International Society of Arboriculture.

"Every tree has its own structure, history, and growth pattern, which means pruning cannot be treated as a one-size-fits-all task," said Jared Dinardo, founder and ISA Certified Arborist at Dinardo Tree Care. "Expanding across the Greater Dallas area allows the team to apply that individualized approach to a wider community of property owners who want their trees cared for correctly."

The expanded tree service covers both routine maintenance and more complex interventions. Routine care includes selective pruning and trimming to support tree health and natural form, while diagnostic services address disease, pest activity, and structural concerns. Deep root fertilization and air spading focus on soil conditions and nutrient access, and support systems help stabilize mature or compromised trees. Storm damage recovery assists trees affected by severe weather, a recurring concern across North Texas.

Tree pruning remains a central element of the company's work. According to the company, trees generally require pruning each year, but the timing, method, and extent vary by species, age, and condition. The approach emphasizes long-term tree health and natural appearance rather than short-term appearance alone.

"Proper tree pruning does more than shape a tree. It removes hazards, improves structure, and supports a longer, healthier life," Dinardo said. "The goal of the expansion is to make that level of certified, standards-based care available to more neighborhoods throughout the Dallas area."

The company provides an initial assessment for trees showing signs of poor health or decline, and develops a custom care plan based on the findings. Services are available to both commercial and residential clients, with an emphasis on all-natural tree care, growth, and wellness.

Dinardo Tree Care is a tree care company serving the Greater Dallas area from its base in Highland Park, Texas. The company specializes in maintaining the health and wellness of trees through organic treatments, established techniques, and certified training. Led by an ISA Certified Arborist, Dinardo Tree Care offers tree healthcare and diagnosis, insect and disease control, selective pruning and trimming, support systems, water management, air spading, deep root fertilization, tree and stump removal, and storm damage recovery for residential and commercial properties.
