

Discount Code Announced For First Aid Shoppe's Emergency Preparedness Kit

June 20, 2016

June 20, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

First Aid Shoppe announced today that a series of codes are available on the Amazon product page for their ResQue1st Emergency Preparedness & First Aid Kit that allow certain discounts based on purchase. The ResQue1st Emergency Preparedness & First Aid Kit is a combination first aid and survival kit, with items for short-term survival and general first aid, divided into an Easy Access Pocket organizational system. First Aid Shoppe specializes in advanced first aid and survival gear for professionals and the general public.

"It's a volume discount deal," says Anna Loehwing, COO of First Aid Shoppe. "We've got codes on the Amazon page for discounts at differing purchase quantities. These will run through the season."

Preparedness and preparedness kits have been seeing an upward trend in sales, as people prepare for potential survival situations. The ResQue1st Emergency Preparedness & First Aid Kit is what's known as a "bug out" bag, or a compact kit small enough to have on hand and able to be grabbed during a quick exit in response to an evacuation or other emergency. The kit has essential survival and first aid gear, such as protection from the elements, flashlight, emergency radio, bandages, CPR and poison treatment and other items necessary to survive for a short period until shelter can be reached.

"With the patented Easy Access Pocket System we're able to fit so many essential items in such a small space," says Ms. Loehwing. "The kit is ten inches on the longest side, and the whole thing, fully packed, weighs less than a pound and a half.. When you have to grab and go, this kit will keep you going until you can reach help."

Discount codes for the Preparedness kits are available on the product Amazon page under the Special Offers and Product Promotions section. The kit comes with a full satisfaction money back guarantee.
