

EverKid Launches New Version Of Halloween Decoration Set Of 5 LED Paper Lanterns On Amazon

July 06, 2016

July 06, 2016 -
Minden, Nevada-based EverKid has announced the launch of its newest Halloween decoration product on Amazon. The company has a new version of its Halloween Decoration Set of 5 LED Paper Lanterns. This includes new packaging and a bonus product, which is an orange paper fan with a black witch as decoration.

Elena Vera, a spokesperson for EverKid recently stated, "We're excited to have released the decoration set, and we're sure parents and children alike are going to love it."

The lanterns are eight inches in diameter. The new version comes in new packaging that includes a gift box filled with 5 lanterns plus the orange fan that is decorated with a black witch. Those who would like to get this Halloween decoration can do so at the Amazon marketplace.

"The lanterns that are included in the set make wonderful decorations for Halloween," says Elena Vera. "We feel that the bonus paper fan is just the icing on the cake."

The decorating set, which can be seen on Amazon.com, contains 5 paper lanterns, which can be hung either indoors or outdoors, and are powered by AA batteries. Decorating aspects, according to the company, include bats, spiders, and skeletons. The company states that not only is the set perfect for holiday decorating, it is sturdy and each lantern contains a hook so they can be hung together or strung apart, thus offering different ways to use them.

More about the set as well as the company that offers them, can be seen at EverKid.biz . The company states that releasing the Halloween set several months before the actual holiday gives them the opportunity to ensure that customers can receive their sets much ahead of the holiday to give them more time for preparation. They state that customers can begin ordering now, and ensure that they have plenty of sets to decorate their homes, offices, or parties come the holiday season.

The Halloween decoration lantern set is available now, strictly through the Amazon marketplace. More about EverKid can be seen on the company's official website, where a list of the other products that they offer for decorating can also be seen.
