

Plumbing Company In Mobile AL Warns About Tree Roots Affecting Pipes And Drains

June 22, 2016

June 22, 2016 -

Mobile, Alabama local plumbing company Mr. Rooter Plumbing of SW AL has issued a warning that tree roots can damage pipes and drains. They now offer specific plumbing Mobile, AL services to address this particular issue. Tree roots grow where nobody can see them, including in those areas where plumbing lines are located. When roots start to grow around, or even through, these pipes and lines, big problems can occur. This can cause serious problems in properties but homeowners need not worry because Mr. Rooter Plumbing of SW AL has services to address this problem about tree roots.

Known by many as a provider of a trustworthy plumber Mobile, AL residents can depend on, Mr. Rooter uses advanced technology and equipment in order to identify whether tree roots are already causing damage to plumbing. When investigating at old arial photographs of Mobile, it is quite obvious that there was far more greenery around in the past. This means that the community is facing a problem of the tree roots starting to grow into those areas where pipes and drains have been placed.

Trees can provide shade and beautify the landscape for a home. However, the plumbing company warns homeowners that their roots are strong enough to break sewer pipes and drains. What's more, the tree roots have a tendency to move towards these pipes because they contain nutrients, oxygen, and water. The problem is that repairing damaged sewer lines can be very expensive. That is why the plumbing company is urging homeowners to have their properties checked before the tree roots cause extensive damage.

The Mobile, AL emergency plumber is available 24/7, 365 days a year to address any plumbing problems. They also offer regular maintenance services, which can enable them to spot and fix problems before they actually occur, which includes the identification of approaching tree roots.

Meanwhile, a spokesperson for Mr. Rooter Plumbing of SW AL, has issued this statement for those who are interested: "If you would like to have the press release sent to your local media market, please fill out the form below: https://form.jotform.com/60526893051153 by June 22nd."
