Cestari Introduces Snowflake Holiday Cake Pop Mold for Seasonal Baking and Gifting

November 02, 2026

LITTLETON, MA - November 02, 2026 -
Cestari Kitchen has highlighted a single silicone mold designed to carry home cooks through the winter entertaining season, producing snowflake-embossed cake pops, molded chocolates and decorative ice spheres from one versatile piece.

The snowflake cake pop mold is a single mold rather than a multi-piece set, and it forms eight snowflake-shaped cavities. Home cooks can fill the cavities with cake batter and the matching cake pop sticks for cookie swaps, pour melted chocolate into the mold to create molded treats for hostess gifts, or freeze water for slow-melting snowflake ice that adds a festive touch to holiday drinks. The mold is made from heat-safe, BPA-free and dishwasher-safe silicone that meets European standards and exceeds FDA requirements.

The silicone does not absorb odors or colors, which allows the same mold to move between sweet, savory and frozen applications without cross-contamination. Because the material is both freezer and oven safe, the piece functions across several winter uses, positioning it among holiday baking tools intended to reduce the number of single-purpose gadgets stored in a seasonal kitchen.

Susan MacDowell, a spokesperson for Cestari Kitchen, said the timing reflects the way households approach the winter months. "Home cooks tell us the holidays bring a long list of occasions, from cookie exchanges to gift giving to gatherings around the table," MacDowell said. "A single mold that handles cake pops, chocolates and ice gives people one dependable tool instead of several, which matters when the kitchen is already busy."

MacDowell added that durability remains central to the company's approach. "Every tool is backed by a lifetime guarantee, and this mold is built to come out year after year," she said. "The snowflake detail is the same whether a family is making cake pops in December or chilling drinks for a spring celebration."

The mold pairs with cake pop sticks sold by the company, allowing home bakers to assemble finished pops for packaging and sharing. Cestari Kitchen has published recipes, use and care instructions, and a guide to making cake pops to support bakers working with the mold during the holiday rush.

For home cooks seeking additional seasonal ideas, the company points to Cestari Table Talk, its free weekly cooking newsletter that delivers recipes, kitchen techniques and product spotlights to subscribers. The newsletter is aimed at households looking to deepen connections around the kitchen table through the winter season and beyond.

Cestari Kitchen is a company that specializes in kitchen tools offered through its online catalog.
