

Can't Be Beat Fence Co LLC Expands Commercial Fence Contractor Services Across Mississippi Gulf Coast

November 17, 2026

Crane Creek, Mississippi - November 17, 2026 -
Can't Be Beat Fence & Construction, LLC has announced the expansion of its commercial fencing services to meet growing demand across the Mississippi Gulf Coast, serving businesses and industrial sites in Ocean Springs, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pass Christian, and Pascagoula.

The expansion comes as the region experiences continued development in port operations, manufacturing, and public infrastructure, all of which require secure perimeter solutions. As a commercial fence contractor with decades of regional experience, Can't Be Beat Fence has worked as a subcontractor on more than one thousand commercial and industrial projects, including ports, harbors, airports, shipyards, cell towers, military facilities, casinos, manufacturing plants, and electrical substations.

The company reports that demand for durable commercial perimeter security has increased as businesses along the coast prioritize site protection and regulatory compliance. In response, the firm has extended its scheduling capacity and installation teams to cover a broader service footprint throughout the coastal counties.

"Commercial properties along the Gulf Coast have distinct security and durability requirements, and each site presents its own challenges," said Meredith Anderson, spokesperson for Can't Be Beat Fence & Construction, LLC. "The expansion allows the company to respond more quickly to businesses in Ocean Springs, Gulfport, Biloxi, Pass Christian, and Pascagoula that need dependable fencing installed by experienced crews."

The company offers a range of fencing solutions for commercial clients, including chain link, aluminum, vinyl, and wood systems. Each project is guided by full-time installers whose average tenure exceeds ten years of field experience. The firm also maintains background-cleared employees for government and secure facilities projects, having installed fences on dozens of military and government complexes across the Southeastern United States.

Anderson noted that the company guides each client through selection, estimation, scheduling, and site preparation before installation begins. "Property owners and facility managers who contact our team of experts receive guidance tailored to their specific site conditions, timelines, and security needs," Anderson said. "That process has remained consistent as the company has grown."

Beyond commercial work, the company continues to provide residential fencing, government fencing, and sports fencing throughout the region. Residential options include aluminum, chain link, vinyl, and wood fences that can be customized to individual property requirements. For commercial and industrial clients, the company serves Mississippi, Alabama, Louisiana, and the broader Southeast for Federal and Department of Defense installations.

The firm maintains an award-winning safety program and provides free estimates without requiring payment upfront. Interested parties may reach the office by phone at (228) 255-9040.
