

Clear Water Irrigation & Drainage Expands New Lawn Sprinkler System Installation Services Into Clay County

November 06, 2026

JACKSONVILLE, FL - November 06, 2026 -
Clear Water Irrigation And Drainage has expanded its service area to include Clay County, bringing lawn sprinkler system installation and drainage solutions to a growing number of residential and commercial properties across the region. The Jacksonville-based contractor now serves homeowners and businesses throughout Clay County, including Orange Park and surrounding communities, as part of its broader presence in Northeast Florida.

The expansion addresses increasing demand for efficient irrigation and water management in areas where seasonal rainfall and dry periods create ongoing challenges for property owners. Clay County residents can now access the full range of services offered by the company, including irrigation system installation, rerouting, repair, and upgrades, along with yard drainage, downspout drain, and French drain installations.

Jon Haney, owner of Clear Water Irrigation And Drainage, noted that the move into Clay County reflects a response to requests from property owners who had limited access to specialized irrigation and drainage contractors.

"Clay County has seen steady residential and commercial growth, and many property owners have been looking for local contractors who understand the specific soil and drainage conditions here," Haney said. "Extending the service area allows the team to assist a community that has long needed reliable irrigation and drainage support."

The company designs irrigation systems tailored to each property, taking into account factors such as landscape layout, plant types, and sun exposure. This approach is intended to promote healthy plant growth while conserving water and reducing waste. Drainage services, including French drain and downspout drain installations, are designed to direct excess water away from building foundations and prevent pooling that can damage landscapes.

As part of the expansion, Clear Water Irrigation And Drainage installers will be available to assess properties, recommend system designs, and carry out installations across Clay County. The company works with both smart controllers and conventional timers, and installs backflow prevention devices in accordance with local regulations.

Haney added that the expansion builds on the company's established work in Duval and St. Johns counties.

"The goal has always been to help property owners maintain healthy landscapes while using water responsibly," Haney said. "Bringing those services to Clay County is a natural step that supports both the landscapes and the long-term interests of the community."

The Clear Water Irrigation And Drainage company provides free quotes for its services and serves both residential and commercial clients. Its offerings range from new system installation to the repair and upgrade of existing systems, as well as rerouting lines when property changes such as pool construction or landscape renovations occur.

Clear Water Irrigation And Drainage is a local irrigation and drainage contractor based in Jacksonville, Florida.
