

Kung Fu Thai & Chinese Restaurant Highlights Pot Stickers Among Chinese Appetizers in Las Vegas

November 17, 2026

LAS VEGAS, NV - November 17, 2026 -
Kung Fu Thai & Chinese Restaurant in Las Vegas has placed a renewed focus on its appetizer menu, spotlighting its handmade Pot Stickers as part of a broader effort to showcase the traditional starters that have long accompanied Thai and Chinese dining.

The restaurant, located on South Valley View Boulevard, has prepared its Pot Stickers using ground chicken and vegetables wrapped in Gyoza egg dough. Each order is deep-fried in vegetable oil and served with a house dipping sauce. A standard serving contains six pieces, and a solo portion is also available for those seeking a smaller taste.

The appetizer selection extends well beyond a single dish. The menu features more than a dozen starters, including BBQ Pork, Fried Calamari, Jumbo Fried Shrimp, Crab Rangoon, Thai Shrimp Rolls, Egg Rolls, and Certified Angus Beef Satay. The variety reflects the restaurant's intent to offer options suited to individual diners and larger groups alike.

Alan Wong, a spokesperson for the restaurant, noted that the renewed attention on starters reflects how guests often begin a meal. "Appetizers set the tone for the entire dining experience, and the Pot Stickers remain one of the dishes guests return for most often," Wong said. "The focus on these starters gives diners a clear look at the range of flavors available before the main course arrives."

The offering of Chinese Appetizers sits alongside a full menu that spans soups, salads, fried rice, stir-fried noodles, vegetarian dishes, and a selection of Thai and Chinese entrées. Desserts such as mango sticky rice round out the options for those looking to complete a meal.

Wong added that accessibility across different dining preferences remains central to how the menu is presented. "Guests can enjoy the appetizers in the dining room, carry them out, or arrange delivery within the local area," Wong said. "The goal is to make traditional dishes available in whatever way suits the occasion."

Beyond dine-in service, Kung Fu Thai & Chinese Restaurant provides take-out, delivery, and online ordering. The restaurant also offers gift certificates and periodically announces special deals through its website and social media channels.

The decision to highlight starters comes as interest in shareable dishes continues to shape how diners approach restaurant meals. Appetizers designed for sharing have become a common starting point for groups, and the restaurant's assortment of starters is positioned to meet that demand.

Kung Fu Thai & Chinese Restaurant is a Las Vegas-based eatery offering a wide range of Thai and Chinese cuisine for dine-in, take-out, and delivery. The menu includes appetizers, soups, salads, fried rice, stir-fried noodles, entrées, vegetarian dishes, and desserts. The restaurant supports online ordering, gift certificates, and special offers, and it maintains a blog where it shares updates about its offerings and services. It holds Better Business Bureau accreditation and features Certified Angus Beef among its ingredients.
