Cestari Highlights Lifetime Warranty Coverage Across Range of Kitchen Tools

November 09, 2026

LITTLETON, MA - November 09, 2026 -
Cestari is reminding home cooks that many of its kitchen tools carry a lifetime replacement warranty, offering replacement coverage on a selection of products currently available for purchase. The warranty applies to items including the Ultimate Pasta Machine, the ceramic pizza cutter, the silicone garlic peeler, the microwave popcorn popper, the glass salad dressing shaker and the take-apart kitchen scissors.

Under the terms of the program, if a covered product fails, Cestari replaces it. The coverage is replacement only. To activate the coverage, buyers register their purchase on the warranty registration page at cestarikitchen.com, where they provide basic details about the item and the date it was acquired.

The warranty reflects a focus on durability across the company's product range. Cestari kitchen tools are designed for everyday use in home kitchens, and the replacement commitment is intended to give buyers confidence that covered items will continue to perform over time. Registration establishes a record of the purchase and connects the owner with the replacement process should a covered product fail.

"The lifetime replacement warranty is a statement about how the covered tools are built," said Susan

MacDowell, founder of Cestari. "When a product that falls under the warranty fails, the company replaces it. Registering a purchase on the warranty page is a simple step that lets owners take advantage of that coverage."

The covered items span several everyday kitchen tasks. The Ultimate Pasta Machine assists with fresh pasta preparation, while the ceramic pizza cutter and take-apart kitchen scissors address slicing and cutting needs. The silicone garlic peeler and the glass salad dressing shaker support ingredient preparation, and the microwave popcorn popper provides a tool for quick snacks. Each of these items is included in the replacement coverage when registered.

MacDowell noted that the registration process was built to be straightforward. "Owners simply complete the form with their name, the product purchased, and the purchase details," she said. "That record is what supports a replacement if a covered tool ever fails."

Beyond its product line and warranty program, Cestari maintains a cooking newsletter that delivers weekly recipes, kitchen tips and community stories to subscribers. The newsletter is aimed at home cooks who want to build family connections around the kitchen table, and it joins the company's blog and news room as resources for those who use its tools.

The products covered by the warranty are available now through the company's online catalog, which also includes additional kitchen gadgets, baking tools and related items. Buyers who have already purchased a covered item are encouraged to complete registration to establish their coverage.

Cestari is a company that specializes in kitchen tools sold through its online catalog. The company offers a range of products designed for home food preparation and backs many of them with replacement coverage. Alongside its catalog, Cestari provides a warranty registration service, a blog, a news room and a cooking newsletter for home cooks. The company's focus centers on quality and durability across the tools it offers to households.
