CoverPin Unites Entity Management Software With Filing Services for Multi-Jurisdiction Compliance

November 13, 2026

MOUNTAIN VIEW, CA - November 13, 2026 -
CoverPin has connected its entity management software with a catalog of filing services, bringing corporate records and the work needed to maintain entities into one platform for teams handling international entity management across multiple jurisdictions. The offering combines director and ownership information, organizational charts and document storage with services including an annual report filing service, director changes, foreign qualification, UCC filings and entity dissolution, giving legal, finance and operations teams a single software-and-services option that works alongside the providers they already use.

CoverPin makes U.S. compliance 12.7 times faster and international filings 11.3 times faster, with compliance costs more than 30% lower, according to company data.

Entity administration has two distinct parts: keeping an accurate record of a company?s structure, and arranging the filings that keep each entity in good standing. CoverPin provides software for the first and a catalog of separately scoped services for the second, so filing support is part of the entity management offering rather than an add-on to a database or compliance calendar. For groups with subsidiaries in several countries, that split between recordkeeping and agency work is what makes international entity management manageable from one place.

The entity management software centralizes board members, ownership, cap tables, locations, business names and addresses. Organizational charts show entities across jurisdictions, and stored documents support reporting across departments. AI-assisted reporting draws on entity data to answer questions about upcoming filings and directors, and director rosters sit in the same workspace as the compliance calendar.

The filing workflow covers annual filings and renewals, from gathering forms to preparing filing details. Approval preferences let customers decide whether a prepared filing needs their review before submission, and the platform supports working with existing service providers throughout.

The business filing services catalog includes annual reports, certificates of good standing, a business entity formation service, foreign qualification, director changes, UCC filing service options, and entity dissolution and withdrawals. Formation establishes an entity, foreign qualification registers an existing entity in an additional state, and dissolution closes an entity?s registration with the relevant agency. For secured transactions, the UCC search and filings service covers electronic filings with the secretary of state where available, import of existing UCC drafts, and centralized tracking of collateral descriptions, debtor and secured party information, and lapse dates.

CoverPin separates platform access from service fulfillment. A free software tier covers records, a compliance calendar and document storage, with service prices varying by service and jurisdiction. The company also offers a business license management platform covering license and permit research at the federal, state and local levels, and coordinates commercial insurance for businesses, including quote requests, provider comparison and renewal tracking.

What?s the difference between entity management software and a registered agent or filing service? Entity management software is a system of record: it stores the corporate information, documents, deadlines and reporting that describe an organization?s entities. A registered agent or filing service performs a specific administrative function, such as receiving service of process at a statutory address or submitting a filing to a government agency. CoverPin provides both, keeping the software layer and the ordered services distinct so the record of the business and the work commissioned for each entity remain separately identifiable.

CoverPin is a corporate compliance platform combining software with administrative support services. Its entity management offering centralizes corporate information, documents and reporting alongside access to filing and related services, including annual report filing, UCC search and filings, entity dissolution support and insurance coordination. The platform is designed for legal, finance and operations teams and supports coordination with existing providers. More information is available at coverpin.com.

CoverPin is a fulfillment service provider supporting business filings, registered agent services and related administrative functions. It is not a law firm and does not provide legal, tax, accounting or other professional advice; its services are not a substitute for advice from appropriately licensed professionals, including licensed insurance professionals. Service coverage, pricing and availability vary by service and jurisdiction and should be confirmed before ordering. Performance figures are company-reported and have not been independently verified.
