May 11, 2015 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Bren and Mike, an entrepreneurial couple dedicated to helping others achieve their dreams, have released a new IPAS2 review where they indicate how they have used the system themselves. They have been watching with interest how sales for the new system continues to grow while the competitors are trying anything to discredit the program but failing in their efforts. They believe IPAS2 will continue to sell and for good reason: it works.

"We keep on coming across posts and websites that claim IPAS2 is a scam," says Mike. "Yet we have tested the program ourselves and fully recommend it to all our followers. Not just that, sales in the system continue to rise. The competition is worried, that much is clear."

Additionally, an upgrade to the Kalatu blogging platform by Empower Network is due to be released towards the end of May. This is something that Bren and Mike are also particularly excited about, as they have used the Empower Network for a long time and fully recommend it to their followers as well. The Kalatu blogging platform has also been extensively reviewed by Bren and Mike and they have used it themselves for many years.

"The advantage of the Kalatu blogging system is that it is part of Empower Network, which has amazing affiliate products that you can promote to make 70% commissions," says Bren. "It helps you create multiple streams of income with the different products you can promote."

Bren and Mike also recommend all their followers sign up for the IPAS2 program. It is quite clear why so many people are shouting "IPAS2 scam." When looking at it, it sounds too good to be true. The program claims to be able to help people earn 7 to 8 figure incomes online, which sounds almost impossible. The second reason why so many claim that it is a scam, however, is because they are scared. There are many programs out there that make the same claims as IPAS2, but none are able to deliver. Hence, rather than improving on their own programs, they prefer to discredit the competition.

Simply put, the IPAS 2 system is a system that combines marketing and prospecting. It is designed to help people gain greater traffic to their websites and to make sure this traffic converts into paying and returning customers. The only downside to the system is that it is quite complicated to use, which is where Bren and Mike come in as they mentor people through the process. Additionally, they provide advice, information and guidance on the Kalatu blogging platform. When put together, the impact these two make is even greater.

Bren and Mike provide reviews on various online marketing programs and more. They want to make sure other people are able to achieve the same levels of success as what they have. They also provide advice and mentoring services on any product that they recommend.
