Jonathan Laing, founder of the company, says, "I'm an experienced online dating coach who has trained with some of the world's top dating coaches for many years. I have built an expert team of creative writers, photographers and dating coaches to help you get the best photos, write your killer profile, send captivating messages, and set up dates."

Laing explains that many people want to date but they're unsure of how to go about it while avoiding turndowns and rejections. He says that even those people who have little time available or who are completely clueless about dating in today's society can be guaranteed dates with the coaching service. He says, "Work with us and I guarantee you'll get more matches, more messages, more phone numbers, and more dates with your ideal women."

In relation to the new service launch, the company has set up various social media pages to give clients a bit more information about what is involved and how they can utilize the coaching that is offered. People can like their official Facebook page to get updates at <https://www.facebook.com/1021636957898288>.

Laing says that many singles, particularly men, are a bit overwhelmed with the prospect of online dating, and that they often just forego dating altogether to avoid awkward conversations and disappointments. He says that those taking the coaching sessions will be much more confident in their dating endeavors and be able to meet women who share their same interests, virtually guaranteeing a match.
