

New Port Richey Plumber Named As Florida PHCC President

July 06, 2016

July 06, 2016 - PRESSADVANTAGE -

Frankie Roman of Roman Plumbing in New Port Richey, Florida, has been inducted as the President of the Florida Plumbing - Heating - Cooling Contractors Association (PHCC). Roman has been president and master plumber of Roman Plumbing since 2002, after he relocated from New York City to the Tampa Bay Area in 1999. A ceremony was recently conducted by the Florida chapter of the PHCC for his induction.

Plumbing has been a major part of Roman's career for more than 15 years, and he states, "I am proud to be a part of this wonderful community and proud to have been chosen by the PHCC to represent Florida in the plumbing industry," he says.

The Florida PHCC offers insights into the latest technology, legislative, and regulatory updates regarding the plumbing, air-conditioning and heating industry. The organization helps to keep consumers and members up-to-date on the latest news, and offers education and training for better business practices to plumbers and others in the industry.

Josh Nelson, spokesperson for Roman Plumbing, says, "The organization is dedicated to advancing plumbers and those in the Plumbing industry, to ensure that they provide the best in services, while offering safety education for workers and customers. We feel that they've chosen the best possible candidate to preside over this organization."

Roman Plumbing in New Port Richey, Florida, offers a variety of services from plumbing installations and repairs to bathroom remodeling. Roman states that their company has a fleet of trucks that are always stocked with a variety of products to resolve a number of plumbing issues. He says that this is why many customers return to them time and again, because they know that they do not have to wait for parts to be ordered prior to repairing their plumbing problems.

Those who are interested can learn more about Roman Plumbing, as well as about the new Florida PHCC President Frankie Roman, by visiting Roman Plumbing on their official website. A complete list of the plumbing, and remodeling services that the company offers, as well as general information can also be found on their website.
