St. Louis, MO ? A.R.C. (Anti-Recidivism Coalition), a support network and advocacy group for men and women who were once incarcerated and part of the criminal justice system, has partnered with Global Vision Technologies, Inc. (GVT) to implement FAMCare human services software. The goal of FAMCare will be to help with structured information collection and analysis as they work with individuals post incarceration to change their lives and create safe, healthy communities.

FAMCare, Rapid Case Management Software ? is GVT?s flagship software platform designed to streamline human services data management. FAMCare will enhance data collection, information management, and the strategic reporting needs of ARC.

?The team at GVT has been excellent in their level of support and customer service. Our staff conducted an extensive search for the most robust case management system, with the flexibility to meet our unique needs as a quickly growing organization. I have been re-assured since implementing FAMCare human services software that this is the best tool to keep detailed data on our members and measure the impact of our programs. In a short time, FAMCare has provided solutions that support our program staff to better serve our clients, and has proven to be an incredibly valuable tool for ARC," said Scott Budnick, Founder and President of the Anti-Recidivism Coalition (ARC).

"We look forward to working with the ARC team and supporting the great work they do for communities. We're proud to work with Scott and his team as we build a great data and reporting infrastructure that will help them case manage, identify trends and improve recidivism rates for their clients, said George Ritacco, Executive Director Client Services for GVT."
