Swim Pro Service & Supply Participates in CKAA Keeneland Fall Meet

November 19, 2026

LEXINGTON, KY - November 19, 2026 -
Swim Pro Service & Supply, a family-owned pool service company serving Central Kentucky, participated in the Central Kentucky Apartment Association (CKAA) Keeneland Fall Meet in October. The annual gathering brought together property owners, managers, and businesses supporting the multifamily housing industry, providing an opportunity to connect with professionals responsible for maintaining apartment communities and their shared amenities.

Organized by the Central Kentucky Apartment Association, the Keeneland Fall Meet combines networking, dining, and horse racing at Keeneland Race Course. As an associate member of the association, Swim Pro Service & Supply took part in the event to maintain relationships within the local multifamily housing community and stay connected with the needs of commercial property operators.

Commercial swimming pools present unique maintenance challenges, particularly in apartment communities and other high-use facilities where water quality, equipment performance, and regulatory compliance require consistent attention. Swim Pro Service & Supply provides commercial pool maintenance programs that address these priorities through water quality management, chemical supply, equipment maintenance, and compliance support.

The company's commercial services include automated chemical management, chloramine control, and bulk pool chemical delivery to help facilities maintain appropriate water conditions and avoid supply interruptions. Filtration services, including filter media replacement, support effective filtration and water clarity. Additional support includes equipment installation and upgrades, preventive maintenance, seasonal pool opening and closing services, and documentation assistance for health department inspections.

These services support a range of commercial properties, including apartment complexes, hotels, resorts, fitness centers, gyms, and municipal or recreational pools. Maintenance programs are tailored to each facility's usage patterns, equipment, and operational requirements.

"Connecting with property managers at events like the Keeneland Fall Meet helps us stay informed about the challenges involved in maintaining commercial pools," said Patrick Staar, co-owner of Swim Pro Service & Supply. "Facilities with higher bather loads have different needs than residential pools, and understanding those differences helps us provide practical maintenance and equipment support."

Swim Pro Service & Supply has maintained its membership in the Central Kentucky Apartment Association as part of its ongoing involvement with the multifamily housing industry. The company works with commercial accounts throughout the region, providing maintenance and repair services designed to help property teams manage aquatic amenities while minimizing disruptions to residents and guests.

With more than 50 years in business, Swim Pro Service & Supply brings experience in residential and commercial pool maintenance, plumbing, and repair. The company's team includes experienced technicians with industry certifications, including Certified Pool Operator credentials, as well as manufacturer training. Additional capabilities include efficiency assessments, operational guidance for facility staff, and authorized warranty repair services for manufacturers such as Hayward, Pentair, and Raypak.

"Reliable pool operations depend on more than routine cleaning. Water chemistry, filtration, equipment upkeep, and seasonal preparation all play important roles in maintaining a commercial facility," added Staar. "Our involvement with CKAA helps us remain connected to the property professionals who oversee these amenities throughout Central Kentucky."

Swim Pro Service & Supply continues to provide residential and commercial pool maintenance, repair, chemical delivery, and equipment services throughout Fayette County and surrounding communities, including Georgetown, Nicholasville, Richmond, and Versailles.
