July 06, 2016 -
Azara Organics has announced the release of their newest product onto the Amazon marketplace, which is the organic seaweed powder. Helena with Azara Organics states that the product "is all-natural and chemical-free and it has been observed to be safe to use on the skin."

The company states that the powder is derived from wild harvested kelp from the coldest region of the North Atlantic, which gives it additional benefits over seaweed found in other regions of the world. Helena states that the organic, natural seaweed can help to revitalize and refresh the skin, and that the new powder can be used to create a facial mask for men and women, and that it has been found to be beneficial for sensitive and dry skin.

"This is by far our best treatment so far," Helena states. "It contains so many minerals and amino acids, as well as other ingredients that are healthy for your skin and will leave you looking radiant."

Azara Organics says that the seaweed powder can also be used to create a cellulite treatment body wrap, which is comparable to those used in European spas, but at a much lower cost than traditional spa treatments.

Northern European and Asian cultures have used seaweed for reducing skin inflammation and overall detoxification for centuries. The company states that the new seaweed powder contains the same ingredients used for medicinal purposes for centuries, and that it offers a number of benefits to the skin.

Helena says that the powder helps with an overall calming feeling, because it is loaded with nutrients from seaweed that helps to cleanse and nourish the skin. The unique properties in seaweed can help to flush out harmful toxins, thus leaving skin smooth and clean.

The company states that because the product is all natural, it has been observed that there are no concerns of reactions to sensitive skin. Azara Organics offers only natural, organic products to consumers that are all designed to promote overall health and well-being.

Those interested in learning more about the new seaweed powder can visit the company on their official Amazon marketplace seller's page, where a list of all the products offered by Azara Organics can also be found.
